*Represents figures from continuing operations

Our restated loss before exceptional items and tax from continuing operations declined from ₹4,266.32 million in Fiscal 2024 to ₹806.04 million in Fiscal 2026. Our results for Fiscal 2026 were also impacted by a loss on account of exceptional item (net) from continuing operations of ₹8,358.39 million, primarily comprising a non-cash charge relating to adjustments to the conversion ratio of various classes of shares held by our Company's shareholders.

In addition, we made a strategic decision to discontinue our Civil Infrastructure Works, under which we undertook construction and other projects focused on civil infrastructure. We incurred a restated loss for the year from discontinued operations of ₹6,417.78 million, ₹1,556.39 million and ₹654.18 million for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Losses for Fiscal 2026 included exceptional items of discontinued operations of ₹4,530.00 million pertaining to impairment loss, as the realisable value of Civil Infrastructure business is expected to be lower than the net asset value of the business. For more information, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Results of Operations" on page 536.

To grow our business, we expect to continue to expand into new categories of products, including capital expenditure (“capex”)- and operating expenditure (“opex”)-related products; continue to diversify by entering new geographies and industries; invest in design-led manufacturing and develop our original design manufacturing (“ODM”) capabilities; as well as selectively expand our own manufacturing facilities through organic development of greenfield set-ups as well as targeted acquisitions. See “Our Business—Our Growth Strategies” on page 308. Certain strategies may not be successfully implemented or may take longer than expected to yield results due to business risks and environmental uncertainties, which could result in continued losses and adversely affect our ability to achieve or sustain profitability. If we are unable to generate adequate revenues and manage our expenses, we and our Subsidiaries may continue to incur losses which may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and business operations. Should our Company or our Subsidiaries fail or cease to become profitable, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

2. We rely on third-party suppliers for manufacturing and raw materials, and exposure to price volatility, capacity and quality issues, supply disruptions, and trade and foreign exchange risks could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

We rely on third-party suppliers for both our Manufacturing Business and our Ecosystem Business. For our Manufacturing Business, we operate a low capital expenditure model and rely on third-party medium-and-small scale suppliers in India and other markets such as the USA and South-east Asia to manufacture the majority of our products, including fabricated steel structures, transformers and solar modules. For our Ecosystem Business, we procure raw materials and commodities such as ferrous and non-ferrous metals and petrochemicals, including aluminium, zinc, steel, copper and lead from third-party suppliers, which we then supply to our customers.

The following table sets forth our revenue from the sale of products sourced from third-party suppliers in absolute amounts and as percentages of our segment revenue from our Manufacturing Business and Ecosystem Business based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments for the Fiscals indicated:

Our third-party suppliers may encounter difficulties in producing our products or supplying raw materials, including constraints relating to production capacity or yields, quality control and assurance, component availability, and shortages of qualified personnel. They may also face disruptions from power or telecommunications outages, work stoppages, transportation interruptions, water shortages, extreme weather, war, terrorism, pandemics or other events that are unforeseen or beyond our control. While we have internal control procedures at the input and output stages of our suppliers’ manufacturing process, our ability to control their maintenance of quality control and assurance is limited. Any disruption to our suppliers’ processes or any failure by our suppliers to meet our standards could lead to increased lead times, delays in deliveries to our customers, reputational damage, legal claims, loss of business and additional costs, including for remediation or sourcing replacement materials. Trade protectionism and evolving regulatory regimes may also require us to shift our supply chains into or out of certain jurisdictions to comply with applicable laws, and any failure by us or our third-party suppliers to comply with applicable regulations could result in fines, injunctions, civil penalties, delays, suspension or withdrawal of approvals or certifications, seizures or recalls, operating restrictions and criminal prosecutions, any of which could significantly and adversely affect our financial position.

For our Manufacturing Business and Ecosystem Business, we typically procure products from third parties through purchase orders, which are typically short-term, without fixed long-term commitments. This exposes us to potential price increases, as suppliers are not obligated to sell to us and may divert supply to their other customers. Our just-in-time procurement model and limited buffer inventories further increase our susceptibility to disruptions from supplier delays, production outages, or quality failures. If we cannot pass increased costs to customers, our margins may be reduced. If suppliers choose not to supply us on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, we may be unable to secure suitable alternatives in a timely manner, which could adversely affect our cash flows, business and results of operations.

In addition, raw materials and commodities such as ferrous and non-ferrous metals and petrochemicals, including aluminium, zinc, steel, copper and lead are subject to commodity price volatility driven by factors beyond our control, such as macroeconomic conditions and geopolitical tensions. Additionally, we operate a global business, with customers and suppliers in various international jurisdictions. Accordingly, we source materials both domestically in the jurisdictions in which we produce or sell our goods, as well as internationally, which exposes us to foreign exchange fluctuations, freight risks, and supply chain complexity. While we engage in hedging activities to mitigate some of these risks, such strategies may not be effective in all market conditions and could result in losses. See “Our Business—Our Competitive Strengths—Comprehensive and institutionalised risk management framework with protection against external risks” on page 308.

While we have not, for the last three Fiscals, experienced any instances of suppliers failing to meet quality specifications or delivery timelines, electing not to manufacture for us, or raw material price inflation that has materially affected our results of operations, there can be no assurance that similar events will not occur in the future. The occurrence of any of the foregoing could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

3. We are dependent on the performance of the industries our customers operate in, including renewables, artificial intelligence infrastructure, oil & gas, consumer electronics, and defence & aerospace industries, and a downturn in any of these industries could adversely affect our business.

Our Manufacturing Business is organised into (i) Energy Products, primarily serving customers in the renewable energy, power transmission and artificial intelligence infrastructure; (ii) Precision Products, primarily serving customers in the consumer electronics, and defence & aerospace industries; and (iii) Capital Goods, primarily serving customers in the infrastructure, oil & gas and heavy industries. * Based on disaggregation of revenue as per Ind AS 115 Revenue from Contracts with Customers - Manufacturing Business

** Refers to Segment revenue - Manufacturing Business for the year based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments

Our Ecosystem Business primarily supplies raw materials and commodities such as ferrous and non-ferrous metals and petrochemicals, including aluminium, zinc, steel, copper and lead to customers across a wide range of industries, including wire and cable manufacturing and infrastructure.

Set out in the table below is the revenue attributable to the Ecosystem Business’s top five products by revenue, in absolute amounts and as percentages of segment revenue – Ecosystem Business based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments, for the Fiscals indicated:

Because we derive revenue from products sold to customers in these end industries, factors affecting any of these industries or our key customers within them could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Such factors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- our customers' failure to successfully market their products or to compete effectively;
- regulatory issues faced by these industries in India and internationally, including any regulatory ban or trade sanctions imposed in any region where we operate or any such restrictions on our customers' final products;
- loss of market share, which may lead our customers to reduce or discontinue the purchase of our products or raw materials;
- economic conditions in the markets in which our customers operate;
- challenging economic conditions in our customers' markets, which may prompt them to move production in-house;
- downturns or industry cycles that impact demand; and
- changes in technology or consumer requirements that alter demand for our products and raw materials.

Demand for our products across all three verticals is particularly sensitive to changes in government policies affecting the underlying end industries, including policies related to energy transition, fiscal incentives, domestic manufacturing and trade policies. See “—Regulatory, political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows and results of operations.” on page 66. Any adverse changes in such policies could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

4. Our revenue from operations – continuing operations from India accounted for 82.54%, 79.41% and 75.43% and our revenue from operations – continuing operations from the USA accounted for 14.33%, 19.09% and 21.54% of our revenue from operations – continuing operations for Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, each based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments. Any adverse economic or regulatory changes that negatively affect the demand for our products in India and the USA could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from operations from India and the USA and adverse economic or regulatory changes that negatively affect the demand for our products in such countries could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. The following table sets forth our revenue from operations – continuing operations by geography based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments in absolute amounts and as percentages of our revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscals indicated:

* Represents figures from continuing operations.

As a substantial portion of our sales is conducted through our USA and other foreign subsidiaries, we are exposed to local market, regulatory, logistics and cost risks. If the economies in India, the USA, or other countries where we operate weaken, or if natural calamities or materially adverse social, political or economic developments occur, demand for our products may decline, negatively affecting our revenue from operations and profitability. We may be unable to pass on cost increases from duties, tariffs, freight, or compliance to our customers. For example, in Fiscal 2025, new USA tariffs on solar piles imported from India led to reduced orders due to uncertainty around the impact of such tariffs. Additionally, as some customer agreements at the time did not include tariff pass-through provisions, we could not recover these additional costs from our customers. This incident did not have a material impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations. We have since updated our contracting approach, and our new agreements now allow us to pass tariffs through to customers on an actual-cost basis. See also “—Regulatory, political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows and results of operations.” on page 66.

We operate in diverse and fragmented markets, with varying levels of economic and infrastructure development and distinct legal and regulatory systems, which exposes us to risks inherent in doing business outside India. These risks include challenges due to distance, language and cultural differences; difficulties in providing products and services that appeal to diverse customer tastes and preferences across multiple markets; protectionist laws and business practices; complex local tax regimes; the imposition of international sanctions on countries where we operate; escalation of geopolitical tensions, risks related to the legal and regulatory environment in non-Indian jurisdictions, particularly concerning privacy and data, taxation, or repatriation of revenues or profits; security concerns and unexpected changes in laws, regulatory requirements and enforcement; the burdens and potential liabilities of complying with various foreign laws; potential damage to our brand and reputation from complying with local laws, such as requirements to provide user information to local authorities; fluctuations in currency exchange rates; political, social or economic instability; the potential need to recruit and work through local partners; reduced protection for or increased violation of intellectual property rights in some countries; difficulties in managing global operations and the associated legal compliance costs; natural disasters, including earthquakes, tsunamis and floods; inadequate local infrastructure; and exposure to local banking, currency control and other financial-related risks.

If we are unable to manage our global operations successfully, our financial results could be adversely affected, which may impact profit margins or make it increasingly difficult for us to conduct business in foreign markets.

5. Our top 10 suppliers contributed to 38.18%, 39.59% and 36.87% of our total expenses for continuing operations for the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Any disruption in the supply or quality from these suppliers could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, and reputation.

Our arrangements with our suppliers are primarily based on purchase orders, which are typically short-term in nature, without fixed long-term commitments. We select suppliers based on factors including technical capability and certifications, historical quality, on-time performance, cost competitiveness, geographic considerations and risk factors such as concentration, tariffs, and logistics exposure. However, issues such as capacity limitations, industry shortages, labour unrest, natural disasters, or other supplier problems may cause shortages or delays that disrupt manufacturing and timely deliveries. While we did not experience material supply disruptions from our top 10 suppliers in the last three Fiscals, any such disruptions could harm our reputation and business and result in additional costs such as exceptional transportation costs and costs related to finding alternative suppliers within constrained timelines, which could adversely impact our financial condition. See “—We rely on third-party suppliers for manufacturing and raw materials, and exposure to price volatility, capacity and quality issues, supply disruptions, and trade and foreign exchange risks could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.” on page 32.

Our growth depends on expanding and retaining our network of customers. Our agreements with Manufacturing Business customers include orders spanning multiple years with volume and price commitments; individual purchase orders; and recurring orders based on annual forecasts. We typically contract with customers through short-term purchase orders, which set out standard terms of sale, specification requirements, and pricing policies. However, we also enter into specific product or project agreements with terms ranging from one to four years, which set out standard terms of sale, specification requirements and pricing policies. For our Ecosystem Business, customers typically place orders on a spot basis, although from time to time we enter annual memoranda of understanding (“MOUs”) with certain customers. Customer demand may be negatively impacted by many factors, including those beyond our control, such as changes in customer operations, management, ownership or procurement strategies; lower spending or slowdowns in the industries in which our customers operate; a deterioration in customers’ financial condition, including insolvency or nonpayment; or macroeconomic or geopolitical developments affecting customer markets. A significant reduction in demand from one or more key customers could lead to lower revenue and margins, particularly if replacement business is not secured on similar terms or in a timely manner. Any such events may materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and future growth prospects.

In addition, we had 1,802 customers as of March 31, 2026. The table below sets forth our segment revenue from our Manufacturing Business based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments and Revenue from Repeat Customers in our Manufacturing Business for the Fiscals indicated:

* Represents figures from continuing operations.

Note:

(1) Refers to the percentage of Manufacturing Business segment revenue in a Fiscal derived from customers who were customers in a prior Fiscal.

While we have not lost any key customers in the last three Fiscals, any failure to retain or expand our customer network could diminish the value of our platform. This may result in fewer orders and could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, and results of operations.

8. *We are subject to strict performance and quality requirements. Defects, perceived defects, or failures to meet customer specifications, whether attributable to us or our suppliers, could result in order cancellations, recalls, liability, and reputational harm.

We design and manufacture products to customer specifications, many of which are highly complex and carry elevated risk profiles. Our customers impose stringent requirements on product quality, technical specifications and delivery schedules. Prior to placing orders, certain customers undertake detailed qualification and review processes that may include inspections of our manufacturing facilities, assessments of our processes, raw materials and financial capacity, technical appraisals of designs and product specifications, evaluations of our logistical capabilities across geographies and multiple inspections and reviews of prototypes. We are subject to rigorous quality control at each stage of production and are required to maintain precise quality and performance levels for every product.

Notwithstanding these measures, defects or perceived defects may arise in design, manufacturing, or servicing, including due to faulty customer specifications, design or process errors, servicing issues, component defects, or business continuity issues. Failures to meet customer requirements or delivery schedules, whether due to us or our suppliers, may result in delayed shipments, returns, reductions, cancellations, non-renewal of orders, or refusals to accept delivery, which may cause reputational harm, regardless of fault. If such issues were to occur with scale or frequency, the impact on our reputation, customer relationships and demand for our services could be significant.

Such issues may also give rise to product liability and other claims, including claims for personal injury, property damage, product recall, replacement or repair costs, and other consequential or indirect losses. Even where customers or third parties, such as suppliers, are responsible for defects, they may dispute or be unable to assume responsibility or reimburse us for related costs. While we seek to limit our liabilities through contractual protections, supplier warranties, and insurance, such protections may be inadequate, unenforceable, costly, or unavailable, and our practical recourse against certain suppliers may be limited. We may also incur costs in investigating and defending claims and disputes, and such matters could adversely affect our business relationships.

While we have not failed to meet quality requirements for manufactured products that has had a materially adverse financial impact on the Company and nor have we been subject to any product liability claims in a manner that materially affected our business, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such events will not occur in the future. Any such occurrence could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations, and reputation.

9. *We have manufacturing facilities in India, Spain, the USA and Germany. Any adverse changes in economic or regulatory conditions affecting our supply chains in these jurisdictions could negatively affect our results of operations.

As of March 31, 2026, we operate 26 own manufacturing facilities across four countries, namely India, Spain, the USA and Germany. For details of our capacity utilisation of our manufacturing facilities, see “Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities” on page 316. Coordinating production, quality, cost and delivery across jurisdictions with differing regulatory frameworks, infrastructure, labour markets, and environmental and safety regimes is complex and resource intensive and elevates the risk of non-conformance, recalls and warranty claims, delays in ramping new lines, transfers or capacity expansions, under-absorption of overhead and missed milestones. We may also face delays or difficulties in obtaining, renewing or complying with permits, licences and approvals. As on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, there are certain material approvals for which our Company and Material Subsidiaries have made an application to the appropriate authorities but not obtained the approvals or renewed approvals, as applicable, including applications filed for fire no objection certificate for our Company’s manufacturing facility I -Bhilai (Unit 1), manufacturing facility II- Bhilai (Unit 2) and manufacturing facility V- Greater Noida, fire no objection certificate for Kryfs Power’s Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kryfs Palghar factory, no objection certificate to operate the DG set for Kryfs Power's Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kherdi factory unit 3&4; and applications filed for a local business license (manufacturing) issued by Clark County, Nevada and Texas manufacturing permit issued by Texas Secretary of State, for Unimacts Global. For further information, see "Government and Other Approvals" on page 580.

We are also exposed to geopolitical risks, trade barriers, sanctions, export controls, customs delays, divergent standards, natural disasters and extreme weather, pandemics and public health emergencies, civil unrest, strikes, cybersecurity incidents and other risks of having international operations, any of which could interrupt production, lead to penalties, or result in reputational harm. See also "— Our revenue from operations – continuing operations from India accounted for 82.54%, 79.41% and 75.43% and our revenue from operations – continuing operations from the USA accounted for 14.33%, 19.09% and 21.54% of our revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively, each based on Ind AS 108 Operating Segments. Any adverse economic or regulatory changes that negatively affect the demand for our products in India and the USA could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations" on page 34.

Moreover, differences in legal systems affect contract enforceability, damages and timelines, and we may face litigation, product liability or environmental claims in multiple jurisdictions. While we have not encountered any material instances of interruptions in operations at our manufacturing facilities in Fiscals 2026, 2025 or 2024, any of the foregoing could disrupt our manufacturing operations and lead to production shortfalls, increased costs, lost sales and damage to our reputation, and while we implement mitigation measures such as internal quality compliance regimes, these may be inadequate or untimely, and the occurrence of one or more such events could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

10. We do not have firm, long-term purchase commitments with many of our customers and our revenue visibility, capacity utilisation and margins may be adversely affected by order reductions, cancellations or delays.

Our agreements with Manufacturing Business customers include orders spanning multiple years with volume and price commitments; individual purchase orders; and recurring orders based on annual forecasts. We typically contract with customers through short-term purchase orders, which set out standard terms of sale, specification requirements, and pricing policies. However, we also enter into specific product or project agreements with terms ranging from one to four years, which set out standard terms of sale, specification requirements and pricing policies. For our Ecosystem Business, customers typically place orders on a spot basis, although from time to time we enter annual MOUs with certain customers. Our short-term agreements do not oblige customers to place orders or maintain minimum purchase volumes. Actual purchases are effected through individual purchase orders issued from time to time, the terms of which, including price and quantity, are confirmed at the time of order placement. Based on these agreements, our customers may provide rolling forecasts of expected demand to facilitate planning. However, such forecasts are indicative and non-binding. Purchase orders are short-term and discretionary and may be amended, rescheduled or cancelled prior to finalisation, which can disrupt our production schedules, reduce capacity utilisation, reduce our ability to optimise manufacturing planning, limit our ability to predict future revenues and customer requirements and adversely affect our operating margins. There is no assurance that customers will renew agreements or continue to place orders at historical levels. Any reduction, deferral, or cancellation of orders could lead to lower volumes, excess inventory, and extended payment cycles, adversely affecting our results of operations and cash flows.

We make operational and procurement decisions based on anticipated demand, including production scheduling, component purchasing, and resource allocation. If anticipated orders do not materialise as expected, or are modified or cancelled, we may be unable to recover associated costs, which could compress our margins. Changes in product mix and customer demand may require adjustments to our manufacturing processes, affecting throughput and costs. A sustained reduction in orders could negatively affect our capacity utilisation, profitability, cash flows and financial condition.

11. We have significant working capital requirements and our inability to meet such working capital requirement may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and cash flows.

Our business requires significant working capital. There may be a delay between purchasing raw materials and realising sales from finished products and services and we must hold adequate inventory and sufficient capital until project costs are recovered. We fund our working capital requirements through a combination of credit facilities from lenders and internal accruals. The table below summarises our Net Working Capital, Current liabilities - Financial liabilities - Borrowings, Cash and cash equivalents, Bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents, Current assets - Financial assets - Investments, Fixed deposit accounts with remaining maturity for more than 12 months and Fixed deposits with remaining maturity less than 12 months as of the dates indicated.

Note:

(1) Net Working Capital is calculated as sum of trade receivables (current), inventories, unbilled revenue and advances to suppliers less trade payables, acceptances, advance received from customers and unearned revenue.

In addition, we extend credit to certain customers and collection delays or project delays can increase our working capital needs. Higher raw material costs or advances for procurement can also raise our working capital requirements, potentially leading to increased short-term borrowings. Our ability to obtain financing, and its cost, depends on market conditions, lender appetite, our performance, our credit rating and other factors and there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain such funding on commercially acceptable terms, or at all. For further details on credit risk, see “—We are exposed to counterparty credit risk. Our inability to collect receivables on time or at all and defaults in payment from our customers could reduce our profits and affect our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.” on page 42. The table below sets forth details of our inventories, trade receivables, trade payables, Inventory Days, Trade Receivable Days and Trade Payable Days as of the dates and for the Fiscals indicated:

Notes:

- (1) Inventory Days is calculated as closing inventories outstanding at the end of the Fiscal divided by revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscal multiplied by 366 days for Fiscal 2024 and 365 days for all other Fiscals.
- (2) Trade Receivable Days is calculated as current trade receivables outstanding at the end of the Fiscal divided by revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscal multiplied by 366 days for Fiscal 2024 and 365 days for all other Fiscals.
- (3) Trade Payable Days is calculated as trade payables outstanding at the end of the Fiscal divided by revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscal multiplied by 366 days for Fiscal 2024 and 365 days for all other Fiscals.

As we execute our growth plans, we may need to raise additional capital for working capital and capital expenditures through further debt or equity. We may not be able to generate sufficient cash flows or obtain funding on a timely basis, or at all. Although we have not experienced shortfalls of our working capital requirements for the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that shortfalls will not occur in the future. Any inability to meet our working capital needs or service our debt could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For further information on capital risk, see “—If we are unable to raise additional capital, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.” on page 62.

12. We had negative net cash flow from/ (used in) operations in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024. Periods of negative cash flow in the future may adversely impact our results of operations, financial condition and profitability.

The following table sets forth our net cash flow from/ (used in) operating, investing and financing activities for the Fiscals indicated.

| Particulars                                                                        | Fiscal         |            |            |

|                                                                                    | (in ₹ million) |            |            |
| Net cash flow used in operating activities                                         | (6,815.29)     | (3,862.85) | (2,815.40) |
| Net cash flow used in investing activities                                         | (3,941.32)     | (1,479.21) | (6,219.00) |
| Net cash flow from financing activities                                            | 17,893.09      | 1,506.37   | 7,632.22   |
| Total closing cash balance including investments and fixed deposits <sup>(1)</sup> | 33,387.93      | 31,133.59  | 32,526.71  |

Note:

- (1) Total closing cash balance including investments and fixed deposits includes (i) cash and cash equivalents, (ii) bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents, (iii) fixed deposits accounts, (iv) investments in corporate fixed deposits, (v) investments in mutual funds, and (vi) investments in commercial papers.

We had negative cash flow from operating activities in Fiscal 2026, due to changes in working capital primarily comprising an increase in other financial asset and other current assets of ₹7,149.69 million, an increase in trade receivables of ₹3,361.20 million, a decrease in acceptances of ₹3,190.74 million and a decrease in other financial liabilities and other current liabilities of ₹765.66 million, partially offset by an increase in trade payables of ₹1,783.75 million and a decrease in inventories of ₹1,475.50 million. We had negative cash flow from operating activities in Fiscal 2025 due to changes in working capital primarily comprising a decrease in trade payables of ₹9,897.57 million, an increase in other financial asset and other current assets of ₹2,420.50 million and a decrease in acceptances of ₹951.56 million, partially offset by a decrease in inventories of ₹2,546.06 million, an increase in other financial liabilities and other current liabilities of ₹2,128.81 million and a decrease in trade receivables of ₹1,051.46 million. We had negative cash flow from operating activities in Fiscal 2024 due to changes in working capital primarily comprising an increase in other financial asset and other current assets of ₹6,938.40 million, an increase in inventories of ₹3,099.42 million, a decrease in acceptances of ₹3,080.30 million, an increase in trade receivables of ₹1,563.26 million and a decrease in other financial liabilities and other current liabilities of ₹689.92 million, partially offset by an increase in trade payables of ₹11,266.20 million. See also “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition — Liquidity and Capital Resources - Cash Flows—Operating Activities” on page 541.

If the negative cash flow trend persists in the future, we may not be able to generate sufficient amounts of cash flow to finance our working capital and capital expenditure requirements which could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. If we fail to manage our working capital and other sources of financing, we may have insufficient capital to maintain and grow our business, and we may breach the terms of our financing agreements with banks, face claims under cross-default provisions and be unable to obtain new financing, any of which would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

13. *Unplanned slowdowns or shutdowns in our manufacturing operations could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our business depends on the efficient operation of our manufacturing facilities, which are subject to risks such as equipment breakdowns, industrial accidents, severe weather, natural disasters, infectious disease outbreaks, and workforce productivity issues. We may also face protests at existing or new sites. Any of these events could disrupt production, cause significant delays, and require substantial repairs.

Furthermore, our operations require a significant and continuous supply of electricity and fuel. Any shortages or interruptions can impair production quality and timelines, delay or prevent deliveries, and harm our reputation and customer relationships. A prolonged outage could trigger slowdowns or shutdowns, increase costs, and result in the loss of work-in-progress.

While we have not experienced any unplanned slowdowns or shutdowns that materially affected our operations in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such disruptions will not occur in the future. If we cannot respond to such disruptions effectively and promptly, we may fail to meet customer requirements or breach contractual obligations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

14. *Pricing pressure from customers may affect our Gross Margin and profitability and may limit our ability to increase prices. This could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our customers may from time to time seek price reductions and restrictive commercial terms, which can erode our margins. To remain profitable while maintaining the quality of our products, we must lower operating costs and improve operational efficiencies, including through new manufacturing processes, simpler designs, alternative sourcing, negotiations with our own suppliers or other cost-reduction initiatives. There can, however, be no assurance that we will be able to avoid customer price reductions in future or fully offset their impact, particularly when customers place higher order volumes and have greater bargaining power to request larger discounts. The table below shows our Gross Profit and Gross Margin (%) for the Fiscals indicated.

| Particulars                     | Fiscal    |           |          |
|---------------------------------|-----------|-----------|----------|
|                                 | 2026      | 2025      | 2024     |
| Gross Profit <sup>(1)</sup>     | 19,305.10 | 13,667.02 | 9,466.77 |
| Gross Margin (%) <sup>(2)</sup> | 12.13%    | 12.06%    | 7.66%    |

Note:

(1) Gross Profit represents Revenue from Operations – continuing operations less Cost of materials consumed (including materials for construction and project contracts), Purchase of stock-in-trade and (Increase)/ decrease in inventories of finished goods, stock-in-trade and work-in-progress.

(2) Gross Margin (%) is calculated as Gross Profit divided by Revenue from Operations – continuing operations.

We have in the past, provided certain customers with price reductions, indemnities, cooling-off periods and non- compete provisions and cannot assure you that our existing or future customers will not demand similar terms. While these obligations have not had a material impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that they will not do so in future. Conversely, refusing such terms may result in the loss of prospective customers, which could also adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

15. We are exposed to counterparty credit risk. Our inability to collect receivables on time or at all and defaults in payment from our customers could reduce our profits and affect our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We are exposed to counterparty credit risk in relation to our customers in both our Manufacturing Business and Ecosystem Business. Any significant delay in payments from our customers or their failure to make such payments may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. While we maintain credit underwriting processes and insurance policies that we believe are customary for companies operating in our industry, there is no assurance that we will accurately assess the creditworthiness of our customers, or that our monitoring processes will prevent significant losses, and actual losses on amounts due to us from customers could differ from those that we currently anticipate. While we have not experienced any significant write-offs as a result of our customers' inability to pay in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we will not encounter such incidents in the future.

The table below sets forth our current assets – financial assets – trade receivables in absolute amounts and as percentages of our revenue from operations – continuing operations, as well as our receivable days as of the dates and for the years indicated.

| Particulars                                                                                                     | As of March 31, Fiscal |            |            |

| Revenue from operations* (₹ million) (B)                                                                        | 159,133.23             | 113,318.56 | 123,643.72 |

* Represents figures from continuing operations

Note:

(1) Trade Receivable Days is calculated as current trade receivables outstanding at the end of the Fiscal divided by revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscal multiplied by 366 days for Fiscal 2024 and 365 days for all other Fiscals.

Macroeconomic conditions, such as a credit crisis in the global financial system, global economic uncertainty, or a pandemic, could lead to deterioration in our customers' financial condition and results of operations, which could limit their access to the credit markets, thereby increasing their risk of insolvency or bankruptcy. Such conditions could cause our customers to delay payment, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which may increase our receivables. Should one or more of our customers become insolvent or otherwise be unable or unwilling to pay for their orders, our working capital estimations, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

16. Our success depends on the expertise and continuing efforts of our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management, as well as our ability to attract and retain people with the relevant technical expertise. Our inability to do so could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We depend on our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, Senior Management and other key employees for strategic direction, day-to-day management and the ability to meet future business challenges. The loss of these individuals or our inability to attract and retain them could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. If any key employee, including members of our Key Managerial Personnel or Senior Management, resigns or becomes unable to continue, suitable replacements may not be available in a timely manner or at all, and we may be unable to replace them with people of comparable skill and experience promptly. These may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. If any member of our senior management or other qualified personnel joins a competitor or establishes a competing business, we may lose customers, knowhow and key professionals and staff.

Our ability to expand our business also depends on attracting, retaining and motivating mid to senior management personnel and engineers. We cannot assure you that we will attract or retain engineers, qualified staff or other highly skilled employees. Skilled labour is critical to our business, and training and retention are essential to our success. A shortage of skilled labour can affect production, maintenance and innovation, and may reduce our growth and global competitiveness. The following table sets forth the attrition rate for our permanent employees and Key Managerial Personnel for the Fiscals indicated.

|                                                               | 2026                   | 2025                  | 2024   |
| Total number of permanent employees <sup>(1)</sup>            | 3,554                  | 2,271                 | 2,544  |
| Attrition rate of permanent employees <sup>(1)(2)</sup>       | 29.79%                 | 67.37%                | 55.78% |
| Total number of Key Managerial Personnel                      | 4                      | 4                     | 4      |
| Attrition rate of Key Managerial Personnel (%) <sup>(2)</sup> | NA                     | 25.00% <sup>(3)</sup> | NA     |

Notes:

(1) Employees of Pinaka, which was a subsidiary of our Company in Fiscals 2024 and subsequently became an associate, are not included for Fiscals 2025 and 2026.

(2) Attrition rate represents the number of permanent employees/ Key Managerial Personnel which exited the Company in the relevant Fiscal as a percentage of average number of permanent employees/ Key Managerial Personnel in the relevant Fiscal.

(3) There was a change in the Chief Financial Officer role in Fiscal 2025.

We experienced a high attrition rate for permanent employees in Fiscals 2025 and 2024 due to several factors: (i) we previously engaged a larger workforce during earlier expansion phases to set up our operations, as these operations matured and became more efficient, fewer roles were needed; (ii) initiatives to improve operational efficiency through increased adoption of technology, digitisation, and automation, which reduced manpower requirements in certain functions; and (iii) the scaling down or restructuring of certain businesses not aligned with our long-term strategic objectives, with employees associated with such business accounting for a portion of the attrition during the relevant periods.

Our future success depends on our ability to attract, train and retain qualified personnel with the expertise, knowhow and skills needed to advance our technology and support key customers and vendors. We may need to raise compensation and enhance other benefits to hire and retain such personnel, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. The market for qualified professionals is competitive and we may not be successful in attracting or retaining the people we need. The table below sets out our employee benefits expense, revenue from operations and employee benefits expense as a percentage of revenue from operations – continuing operations for the Fiscals indicated:

An inability to hire, train and retain sufficient qualified employees could impair our operations and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Our success also depends on key supplier and customer relationships developed by our senior management. If we lose members of senior management, we may be unable to maintain or renew these relationships on favourable terms or at all, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

17. Any slowdown or interruption or under-utilisation of our manufacturing capacities may adversely affect our business, cash flows, future prospects and future financial performance.

Our capacity utilisation depends on our customers' product requirements and procurement practices, raw material availability, industry and market conditions. We cannot assure you that there will not be a slowdown, or interruption or that we will achieve full utilisation of our manufacturing facilities. If we do not achieve full utilisation, fixed costs may be under-absorbed and operational inefficiencies may arise. This could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, future prospects and financial performance. For further details in relation to our capacity utilisation, see "Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities" on page 316.

The table below sets forth the facility-wise installed capacity utilisation of our facilities as of the dates or for the Fiscals indicated:

Notes:

- (1) Capacity figures for certain manufacturing facilities/plants were “NA” in certain Fiscals due to such manufacturing facilities/plants having not become operational at the time.
- (2) While there are 26 manufacturing facilities as on March 31, 2026, the capacities in the table above are aggregated by product for certain facilities.
- (3) Capacity utilization has been calculated on the basis of actual production during the relevant Fiscal divided by the aggregate installed capacity of relevant manufacturing plant/ line as of at the end of the relevant Fiscal.
- (4) Excludes facilities of the entities which are our Company’s Associates and JV’s as of March 31, 2026.
- (5) Capacities for the Sharptanks, Unimacts (Spain, Germany & Houston) and ZetTown, Noida facilities have been presented on a day-and-night-shift basis as of March 31, 2026. Capacities for the previous Fiscals were based on day-shift operations only.
- (6) Capacities of entities acquired in Fiscal 2026 (Kryfs, Angelina, JZNEE and Winsharp) are presented on a full-year basis.
- (7) Figures for Kryfs for Fiscals 2025 and 2024 reflect capacity utilization prior to its acquisition by our Company in Fiscal 2026.

For more information on the capacity utilisation of each of our facilities, see “Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities” on page 316.

Capacity utilisation across our manufacturing facilities may vary from year to year. Over-utilisation may occur due to operational optimisation measures such as improved production/operational efficiencies, changes in product mix, and project-specific requirements. Conversely, lower utilisation levels in certain periods may result from factors such as the ramp-up of newly commissioned facilities, shifts in product mix, fluctuations in customer demand, or timing differences in order execution and project schedules.

Extended periods of under-utilisation, or significant short-term under-utilisation, can reduce margins and delay returns on investment. We have made, and may continue to make, significant investments in our manufacturing facilities. Expected returns on this capital depend on our ability to ramp production, retain and deploy skilled personnel, absorb additional infrastructure costs and utilise expanded capacities as planned. If industry supply exceeds demand, or if demand weakens, we may be unable to utilise capacity efficiently. In addition, we incur maintenance costs in respect of our manufacturing facilities, which are incurred even in periods of low utilisation. Any of these factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, growth prospects and future financial performance.

Additionally, as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, we are in the process of constructing one new facility: a solar module manufacturing facility in Sangareddy, Telangana. While this facility is expected to be completed in Fiscal 2027, there can be no assurance that construction will be completed on time, within budget, or at all. Any failure to construct and commission these facilities could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Notes:

- (1) Manufacturing Order Book represents the aggregate value of purchase orders or work orders received from customers for which revenue has not yet been recognized, as of a specified date, for the Manufacturing Business.
- (2) Manufacturing New Orders represent the aggregate value of purchase orders or contracts received from customers during a specified period for supply of products or services, in the ordinary course of business, for the Manufacturing Business.

The growth of our order book is a cumulative indication of the revenues that we expect to recognize in future periods with respect to our existing contracts. We cannot guarantee that the income anticipated in our order book will be realized, or, if realized, will be realized on time or result in profits. Our past as well as our existing order book and our growth rate may not be indicative of the number of orders we will receive or our growth in the future.

While none of our orders have been cancelled or terminated prematurely in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that orders will not be cancelled or terminated prematurely in the future. In such events, we may have to bear the actual costs for such production incurred by us which may exceed the agreed work, as a result of which our future earnings may be affected. Further, any project cancellations or scope adjustments could reduce our order book and, in turn, the income and profits ultimately earned from such contracts, which could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

19. Security breaches and attacks against our systems, and any resulting breach or failure to protect confidential information, could adversely impact our business and reputation.

Our operations depend on our information technology (“IT”) and enterprise resource planning (“ERP”) systems, which we operate through a combination of third-party solutions and internally maintained applications. The size and complexity of these systems make them vulnerable to breakdowns, configuration errors, cyber intrusions and malware. In addition, we generate, store and process substantial volumes of transaction and demographic data relating to our customers and suppliers. This makes us a target for, and vulnerable to cybersecurity risks such as cyberattacks, data theft, hacking, and other attempts to disrupt our operations or gain unauthorised access to our data. A large-scale IT malfunction or cyber-attack on our IT and ERP systems, whether originating internally (through tampering or breach of data confidentiality, among others) or externally (through denial-of-service attacks, hacking or malware, among others) could enable unauthorised persons to access, steal and/ or destroy sensitive business data, including information relating to our intellectual property (including product designs, design software and other trade secrets) or business strategy or those of our customers. Such malfunctions or attacks may affect our ability to plan, track, record and analyse work in progress and sales, process financial information, meet business objectives based on IT initiatives such as product life cycle management, manage our creditors, debtors, payables and inventory or otherwise impact the way we process transactions and conduct our normal business operations. The increasing use of artificial intelligence may also heighten cybersecurity risks, leading to more sophisticated or targeted attacks. We must also comply with various laws and regulations on data privacy and security.

Although we invest in and maintain technical and physical safeguards and compliance policies such as role-based access control for employees, multi-factor authentication, separation of duties, centralised device management, firewalls with intrusion detection and prevention systems and distributed denial-of-service protections, DomainKeys Identified Mail (“DKIM”) and Domain-based Message Authentication, Reporting and Conformance (“DMARC”) configurations, which are an email authentication protocol and framework, respectively, quarantine tools to protect our email systems from spam and phishing, anti-virus software, facial recognition systems, restricted entry to server rooms and heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (“HVAC”) areas, secure practices for disposing of and transporting documents, an ISMS policy, compliance with ISO 27001 and SOC 2 standards, vulnerability assessments and penetration testing, and formal data protection and privacy policies to govern our data lifecycle and ensure compliance with the Information Technology Act, 2000 and the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 (“DPDP Act”), and have not, in the last three Fiscals, experienced IT failures or cybersecurity incidents resulting in data leaks that significantly disrupted our operations, these measures may not be sufficient to address all evolving cybersecurity or other IT-related risks. See “Our Business—Data Privacy and Security” on page 325. The techniques used to gain unauthorised access to our systems or data are constantly evolving, may be difficult to detect and prevent, and may require us to incur significant costs to enhance our security, including deploying additional technologies, hiring and retaining well-trained employees and engaging third-party experts. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to anticipate such techniques or implement adequate preventative or remedial measures in a timely manner.

As part of our operations, we must comply with various laws, including the Information Technology Act, 2000 and its rules, which impose civil and criminal liability, and the DPDP Act, which stipulates monetary penalties for breaches. In November 2025, the Government of India commenced an 18-month process of implementing the DPDP Act and its related rules (collectively, the “DPDP Framework”). See “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 330. These laws are new and their interpretation and application remain uncertain and subject to change. Any failure, or perceived failure, to protect our data or comply with applicable requirements could lead to regulatory proceedings, fines, private litigation, and reputational harm, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and cash flows.

20. *We operate in highly competitive industries, and if we are not able to compete effectively, our business could be adversely affected.

We compete with many providers of manufacturing services and raw materials procurement and trading. For details of our competition, also see, “Industry Overview— Section 6: Key players in durable goods manufacturing and their competitive positioning across different manufacturing models” on page 283. Some of our competitors have greater financial, manufacturing, trading, and marketing resources, and many have broader international footprints. We may also face competition from large manufacturers and commodity traders that currently sell, or may begin to sell, their manufacturing or raw materials procurement and trading services.

Further, we also face competition from the manufacturing operations of our current and future customers, who are continually evaluating the merits of manufacturing products internally against the advantages of outsourcing to third-party providers. During periods of recession, our competitive advantages in the areas of quick turnaround manufacturing and responsive customer service may be of reduced importance to our clients, who may become more price sensitive. We may also be at a competitive disadvantage with respect to price when compared to manufacturers with lower cost structures, particularly those with more offshore manufacturing facilities located where labour and other overhead costs are lower. The availability of excess manufacturing capacity at many of our competitors’ manufacturing facilities creates intense pricing and competitive pressure. To compete effectively, we must continue to provide technologically advanced manufacturing services and raw materials trading and procurement solutions, maintain strict quality standards, respond flexibly and rapidly to customers’ design and schedule changes and raw material needs, deliver products and materials globally on a reliable basis at competitive prices and seek to create enhanced relationships with our customers with our advanced technology and engineering solutions. There can be no assurance that we will be able to competitively develop the products or solutions necessary to retain business or attract new customers. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to establish a compelling advantage over our competitors.

21. *Our access to capital and the cost thereof is influenced by our credit ratings. Absence of ratings or unfavourable ratings may constrain financing options and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

The cost and availability of capital depend, among other things, on our current and future results of operations and financial condition, our risk management capabilities, our brand and our credit ratings. If our results of operations are not favourable, we may be unable to obtain the requisite amount of financing or access funding at competitive interest rates. The following table sets forth details of our credit ratings received in the last three Fiscals and up to the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I:

| Rating Agency | Instruments                                   | Credit Rating                 | Date         |
|---------------|-----------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|--------------|
| CRISIL        | Non Convertible Debentures / Commercial Paper | Crisil A-/Negative/Crisil A2+ | June 3, 2026 |
|               |                                               | Crisil A-/Stable/Crisil A2+   | July 4, 2025 |
|               |                                               | CRISIL A- Stable/CRISIL A2+   | July 4, 2024 |
|               |                                               | CRISIL A-/Stable/ CRISIL A2+  | July 6, 2023 |

Credit ratings reflect a rating agency’s opinion of factors such as our management, track record, diversified clientele, scale of operations and margins and operating cycle.

While we have not experienced any downgrades in our credit ratings in the last three Fiscals, any downgrade in our credit ratings, our failure to obtain ratings on a timely basis, or the non-availability of ratings or the receipt of poor ratings, could increase our borrowing costs, trigger lender rights to review facilities under our financing arrangements, and adversely affect our access to capital and debt markets. Any such developments could, in turn, adversely affect our interest margins, business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

22. *We have in the past failed to file certain forms with RBI for certain allotments made by our Company, within the prescribed timelines under FEMA and the rules made thereunder and have also paid late submission fees for delays in filing of forms with RBI in respect of certain allotments made by our Company.

Our Company has also in the past, been instructed to pay and has paid late submission fees for delays in reporting of certain allotments to the RBI, namely for allotments dated August 14, 2018, August 24, 2018, January 12, 2022, March 3, 2022, March 31, 2023 and January 21, 2022. If we are subject to such non-compliance(s) or related regulatory action(s) in future, our reputation could be adversely affected. While our Company has procedural secretarial compliance mechanisms in place, however, there can be no assurance that such lapses will not occur in the future, or that we will be able to rectify or mitigate such lapses in a timely manner, or at all.

23. Non-compliance with, or changes to, safety, health, environmental and labour laws could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are subject to extensive laws and regulations on safety, health, environmental protection and labour. These govern, among other things, emissions to air and water, noise, storage and handling of materials, and employee exposure to hazardous substances. Additionally, we must comply with labour and employment laws on minimum wages, working hours, overtime, working conditions, maternity benefits, hiring and termination, contract labour and work permits. Compliance requires ongoing investment in systems, processes, training and documentation. These regimes have become more stringent and may continue to tighten. Changes can also impose new reporting obligations and increase costs. See “Key Regulations and Policies” and “Government and Other Approvals” on pages 330 and 580, respectively.

While we have complied with such regimes in the last three Fiscals, certain approvals applicable to our Company and Material Subsidiaries such as (a) fire no objection certificate for our Company's manufacturing facility I-Bhilai (unit 1), manufacturing facility II- Bhilai (unit 2) and manufacturing facility V- Greater Noida, (b) fire no objection certificate for Kryfs Power's Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kryfs Palghar factory, (c) no objection certificate to operate the DG set for Kryfs Power's Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kherdi factory unit 3&4 are pending. There is no assurance that we can continue to do so in the future, and non-compliance may arise from inadvertent errors, supplier or contractor lapses, equipment failures or events beyond our control. Any failure to comply with such laws and regulations could expose us to investigations, fines, penalties, clean-up and remediation orders, third-party claims and litigation, increase our costs, disrupt our operations and may even lead authorities to curtail or shut down our operations, which may cause product shortages and delay, prevent us from meeting customer commitments and harm our reputation, all of which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

24. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate or we may incur uninsured losses or losses in excess of our insurance coverage which may impact on our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We maintain insurance policies that we believe are customary for companies operating in our industry. These include policies relating to burglary, building insurance, fire insurance, commercial vehicle insurance, electronic equipment insurance and commercial package policies, among others. For further details, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 326. Notwithstanding the coverage we carry, we may not be insured against all risks, and our insurance policies are subject to exclusions, deductibles, sub-limits, aggregate limits, conditions, and insurer credit risk. Events outside the scope of our policies, or losses that exceed policy limits, could significantly affect our operations or expose us to third-party claims. We cannot assure you that claims will be honored in full, in part, on time, or at all. Any loss that is uninsured or underinsured would have to be borne by us and could adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition, and results of operations.

The table below sets forth details of our insurance coverage compared to the total tangible assets of our Company and its Subsidiaries, as at the dates indicated:

| Particulars                                                 | As of March 31, |          |          |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------|----------|
|                                                             | 2026            | 2025     | 2024     |
| Insurance Coverage <sup>(1)</sup> (₹ million)               | 10,785.86       | 4,904.16 | 3,449.07 |
| Net value of tangible assets <sup>(2)</sup> (₹ million)     | 9,515.19        | 4,224.04 | 3,126.60 |
| Percentage of insurance coverage to net value of assets (%) | 113.35%         | 116.10%  | 110.31%  |

Notes:

- (1) The Company acquired a 51% stake in Kryfs Power Component Limited pursuant to a Share Purchase Agreement dated March 28, 2025, pursuant to which Kryfs Power Component Limited became a subsidiary of the Company with effect from July 31, 2025. Accordingly, the insurance policies relating to Kryfs Power Component Limited have not been considered for the purpose of computation of the sum insured for Fiscals 2025 and 2024, but have been considered for Fiscal 2026.
- (2) Net value of tangible assets refers to the net book value of property, plant and equipment (excluding right of use assets, leasehold improvements, and freehold land), capital work-in-progress, investment property, and cash in hand for the relevant Fiscal.

We cannot assure you that our coverage will be sufficient to prevent financial loss, or that we will be able to recover under our policies on a timely basis, or at all. While we have not experienced damage or loss of uninsured assets that had an adverse impact on our business or results in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we will not experience such incidents in the future. Unforeseen events, including natural disasters, accidents, thefts, or other incidents, could result in significant monetary losses, increased premiums, higher deductibles, reduced availability of coverage, or more restrictive terms, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows, and results of operations.

25. There have been certain instances of delays in payment of statutory dues by us in the past. Any delay in payment of statutory dues by us in future, may result in the imposition of penalties and in turn may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operation and cash flows.

We are required to pay certain statutory dues including provident fund contributions, employee state insurance contributions (“ESIC”), professional taxes, labour welfare fund, goods and services tax (“GST”), tax deducted at source (“TDS”), tax collected at source (“TCS”) and income tax. The table below sets forth the details of instances of non-payment, delays or defaults in the payment of statutory dues (including but not limited to dues under the Employee State Insurance Act, 1948, Employees' Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 and Income Tax Act, 1961) in relation to the employees by our Company and our Subsidiaries, for the Fiscals indicated:

The delays in payment of statutory dues were attributable to incidents occurring in the ordinary course of making such statutory payments, including on account of administrative or logistical issues and technical difficulties with the relevant statutory payment portals. Such delays were not material in nature and hence did not have any material financial implications. However, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to such interest and penalties in the future for delays in payment of statutory dues, which may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

26. We have pursued and are likely to continue to pursue strategic acquisitions to expand our capabilities. Our inability to successfully complete and integrate suitable acquisitions on acceptable terms in the future could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We may pursue acquisitions, joint ventures or strategic alliances to expand our capabilities. See “Our Business—Our Growth Strategies—Selectively expand own facilities through greenfield setups and acquisition of bolt-on capabilities” on page 310. There is no assurance that we will identify suitable partners on commercially reasonable terms or close transactions on acceptable terms, or at all. Even if we do, integration can be complex and time-consuming and expected synergies may not be realised. We may face delays, higher costs and operational disruption.

We compete with other companies to acquire target businesses, and we may not be able to identify or successfully acquire appropriate strategic targets. If we fail to integrate or manage acquired companies efficiently, or if the acquired businesses do not generate the operational and financial results we expect, we may not be able to realize the benefits of the acquisitions, and our business, financial condition and results of operations, as well as overall growth prospects, could be materially adversely affected. Moreover, the costs of identifying and consummating acquisitions may be significant. Past and future acquisitions and the subsequent integration of new assets and businesses into our own require significant attention from our management and could result in a diversion of resources from our existing business, which in turn could have an adverse effect on our operations. Acquisitions could result in the use of substantial amounts of cash, potentially dilutive issuances of equity securities, the occurrence of significant goodwill impairment charges, amortization expenses for other intangible assets, and exposure to potential unknown defects of the acquired assets or liabilities of the acquired business.

In respect of our recent acquisitions, investments and increases in shareholdings, including, inter alia, the acquisitions of KJV Alloy Conductors Private Limited, Winsharp Electronics Private Limited, JZNEE Renewable Energy Technology Inc, 2011 Angelina Manufacturing, LLC, Kryfs Power Components Limited, Unimacts Global LLC, Pinaka Aerospace Solutions Private Limited, Zet Town India Private Limited, Sharp Tanks and Structurals Private Limited, among others, or in the event we acquire any other company or business in the future, we could have difficulty in assimilating that company's personnel, operations, and customer base. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters—Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/undertakings, mergers, amalgamation, any revaluation of assets, etc. in the last 10 years" on page 344. In addition, the key personnel of the acquired company may decide not to work with us or there may be difference or conflict in understanding of their and our key personnel. Moreover, we may not be able to retain the customer base of the acquired company. We could also have difficulty in integrating the acquired services or technologies into our operations. These difficulties could disrupt our ongoing business, divert focus of our management and increase our expenses.

Joint ventures also create additional risks. Joint venture partners may underperform, fail to fund their share of capital, or breach contractual obligations. Their interests and strategies may differ from ours. Disagreements over governance, budgets, technology, brand use or exit rights may arise. Further, our Company may be required to provide guarantees or indemnities, contribute additional capital or accept restrictions on competing activities. We may also be exposed to liabilities arising from our joint venture partners' conduct, including compliance, tax and employment matters.

Further, products manufactured through joint ventures may not meet customer expectations or generate the anticipated returns. We cannot assure you that new ventures will be developed and scaled as planned, or that they will be profitable. Failure to manage joint ventures effectively could reduce growth and margins, and could also result in write-offs, impairments and reputational harm. Any of these outcomes could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

27. We are subject to laws related to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, financial and applicable primary and secondary economic sanctions and similar laws of the USA and EU or other jurisdictions, and non-compliance with such laws can subject us to administrative, civil and criminal fines and penalties, all of which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

We are subject to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, and similar laws and regulations in various jurisdictions in which we conduct or in the future may conduct activities, including the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act ("FCPA"), and other applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations. Such laws prohibit us and our officers, directors, employees and business partners acting on our behalf, including agents, from corruptly offering, promising, authorising or providing anything of value to a "foreign official" for the purposes of influencing official decisions or obtaining or retaining business or otherwise obtaining favourable treatment. Such laws also require companies to make and keep books, records and accounts that accurately reflect transactions and dispositions of assets and to maintain a system of adequate internal accounting controls. A violation of these laws or regulations could lead to administrative, civil and criminal fines and penalties, collateral consequences or remedial measures which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation. While we have not been subject to civil or criminal proceedings relating to such laws and regulations in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that our policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with these regulations will be sufficient and our directors, officers, employees, representatives, consultants, agents and business partners could engage in improper conduct for which we may be held responsible.

Further, we are subject to laws related to economic and financial sanctions. For example, the U.S. government, including the U.S. Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") and the U.S. Department of State, administers and enforces certain laws and regulations ("U.S. primary sanctions") that impose restrictions upon activities or transactions within U.S. jurisdiction with certain countries or territories, governments, or persons, including entities and individuals, that are the target of U.S. primary sanctions ("U.S. Sanctions Targets"). Non-U.S. persons generally are not automatically bound by U.S. primary sanctions, but to the extent they engage in transactions involving a U.S. jurisdictional nexus such as involving U.S. persons or goods or services obtained from the United States (such as, for example, a U.S. dollar payment that clears through a correspondent account in the United States), they are required to comply with OFAC sanctions. Violations of U.S. primary sanctions can result in substantial civil or criminal penalties. In addition to primary sanctions, the United States also maintains "secondary sanctions", which expose non-U.S. parties to a range of U.S. sanctions for engaging in specified activities with certain U.S. sanctions targets, including, for instance, as related to Iran, North Korea, and Russia. U.S. secondary sanctions are maintained under a wide and growing range of statutes and executive orders. For example, non-U.S. persons can be sanctioned for engaging in significant transactions with certain persons designated on OFAC's Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (the "OFAC SDN List"). Secondary sanctions apply to the conduct of non-U.S. parties, even if those non-U.S. parties engage in such conduct without U.S. person support or participation, and even if those non-U.S. parties have no connections to or operations in the United States. Non-U.S. parties that engage in sanctionable activities are potentially subject to a number of secondary sanctions, including, among other things, designation on the OFAC SDN List, which would prohibit U.S. persons from dealing in all property in which the sanctioned party has an interest, including a prohibition on transactions or dealings within U.S. jurisdiction involving securities of the sanctioned company. The EU also enforces certain laws and regulations that impose restrictions upon nationals and entities of, and business conducted in, EU member states with respect to certain activities or transactions with certain countries and governments, and also with respect to wider ranges of activities involving so-called "designated" entities and individuals (such designated persons being "EU Sanctions Targets") and, together with U.S. Sanctions Targets, "Sanctions Targets"). Other supra-national and governmental entities also administer and enforce similar sanctions, including United Nations Security Council resolutions and independent sanctions regimes as implemented and administered by countries such as the United Kingdom, Canada and Australia. While we have not been subject to civil or criminal proceedings relating to sanctions violations in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we will not encounter such incidents in the future, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

28. Exchange rate fluctuations in various currencies in which we do business could materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Due to the global nature of our business, a portion of our income and expenses is denominated in foreign currencies, including the U.S. dollar, British pound, United Arab Emirates dirham, Singapore dollar, Euro, Danish krone, Swedish krona, Japanese yen, Bangladesh taka and Chinese yuan. Fluctuations in foreign exchange rates have affected, and may in the future affect, our results of operations.

In recent years, the exchange rates of the U.S. dollar, pound sterling and Euro have fluctuated significantly against the Indian Rupee. For more information, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risks — Foreign currency risk" on page 545. The following table sets out our net gain/(loss) on foreign exchange transactions and translations for the Fiscals indicated.

While we use foreign currency forward contracts to manage some of our exposure to foreign currency risk, there is no assurance that our hedging strategies will be effective. In addition, foreign exchange controls could restrict us from repatriating income earned in certain foreign countries to India, and any such limitation, restriction or delay in repatriation may cause us to incur losses due to currency volatility. We cannot assure you that exchange rates will remain stable, and any appreciation of the Indian Rupee against the U.S. dollar, British pound, United Arab Emirates dirham, Singapore dollar, Euro, Danish krone, Swedish krona, Japanese yen, Bangladesh taka, Chinese yuan, or other foreign currencies could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

29. We have in the past entered into a number of related party transactions and may continue to enter into related party transactions in the future, and there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favourable terms if such transactions had not been entered into with related parties.

We have in the past entered into, and will continue to enter into, certain transactions with related parties. While our related party transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis and in the ordinary course of business in compliance with applicable laws, including the Companies Act and other applicable regulations pertaining to the evaluation and approval of such transactions, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. For details on related party transactions entered into by us, see "Summary of Related Party Transactions" on page 39.

While we will conduct all related party transactions post-listing of the Equity Shares subject to the approval of the Audit Committee, or the Board or Shareholders, as applicable, and in compliance with the applicable accounting standards, provisions of Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law, such future related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. While we endeavour to address such conflicts of interest as and when they may arise, we cannot assure you that such future transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not involve potential conflict of interest which will not have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

30. We may be exposed to evolving risks associated with our use of artificial intelligence and machine learning in critical areas of our operations.

We leverage emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence and machine learning in processes such as matching capability and manufacturing expertise with either third-party or in-house suppliers to enhance operational efficiency and improve experiences for our customers and suppliers. We may encounter unforeseen obstacles in integrating these technologies with our existing systems and processes, and the algorithms and data models we utilise may not perform as intended, may rely on incomplete, inaccurate or biased data, or may produce erroneous or unpredictable outputs. Any such issues could result in sub-optimal decisions, operational disruptions, compliance lapses or customer dissatisfaction. Reliance on artificial intelligence and machine learning also introduces risks relating to data security, privacy, intellectual property, third-party tools and service providers, and potential service interruptions. These risks include vulnerabilities to cyberattacks, unauthorised access, misuse of data, model drift or degradation over time, supplier failures, and outages or latency that could impact system availability. In addition, evolving legal, regulatory and ethical requirements governing the use of these technologies may impose additional obligations, restrict certain use cases, necessitate costly remediation or redesign, or expose us to investigations, penalties or litigation. Any of the foregoing could adversely affect our reputation, our relationships with customers and partners, our operating performance, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

31. We are dependent on third-party transportation providers for the supply of materials for our manufacturing and procurement operations and the delivery of our finished products and raw materials. Disruptions could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We rely on external logistics contractors to deliver our raw materials and products. In many of our arrangements, our customer or supplier is responsible for the delivery and logistics for our products, although in certain cases, we are responsible for arranging delivery. As we do not control our third-party freight and transportation providers, we could be subject to transportation strikes that could disrupt supplies and deliveries to and from our customers and suppliers. Delays in the delivery of raw materials and products or a failure to deliver our products efficiently and reliably could adversely impact our customer relationships. Any compensation received from insurers or third-party transportation providers may be insufficient to cover the cost of delays and may not be able to repair the damage to our relationships with affected customers. We may also be affected by an increase in fuel costs, as this will have a corresponding impact on freight charges levied by our third-party transportation providers. While we have not experienced any material failures to meet our customers' delivery schedules in the last three Fiscals due to any fault of our external transport and logistics contractors, there can be no assurance that we will not encounter such incidents in the future, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

32. There are outstanding legal proceedings against our Company, our Directors, our Promoters and our Subsidiaries, or Key Managerial Personnel and member of senior management and adverse outcomes in such proceedings may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are, and may in the future be, involved in legal proceedings and claims, including civil, tax, regulatory, labour and employment matters, contractual disputes, statutory notices, arbitrations and petitions before various courts, tribunals, authorities and appellate bodies in India and other jurisdictions. We are also exposed to risks of public interest litigation, personal injury and property damage claims. Litigation and arbitration can be costly and time-consuming and may divert management attention. They may also result in significant liabilities, injunctions or other remedies that could disrupt our operations.

We cannot assure you that any pending or future proceedings will be resolved in our favour. Adverse judgments or settlements could have a material effect on our business, delay the implementation of current or future projects, and adversely impact our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Even where we are successful, we may not recover our costs of defence, and counterparty recovery may be uncertain. Insurance coverage for litigation exposure may be limited or unavailable, and we cannot assure you that any losses will be covered in full, in part, on time, or at all. For instance, the Central Bureau of Investigation, anti-corruption branch, Bhopal filed a charge sheet dated December 27, 2024, before the Court of the Special Judge for CBI cases, Bhopal, against one of our subsidiaries Kryfs Power Components Limited, for details see – “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments - Litigation involving our Subsidiaries – Litigation against our Subsidiaries – Criminal litigations” on page 570. Further, pursuant to a search and seizure conducted by the Income Tax Department at our Company’s office and at the residence of one of our Director, Srinath Ramakkrushnan, which commenced on March 15, 2022, with the last panchanama drawn on May 17, 2022, a show cause notice dated June 9, 2023 and followed by another show cause notice dated June 22, 2023 were issued to Srinath Ramakkrushnan by the Deputy Director of Income Tax (Investigation) to hold him as the 'Principal Officer' of our Company under Section 2(35) read with Section 276C(1) of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Subsequently, the Principal Director of Income Tax (Investigation) issued a show cause notice dated August 1, 2023, proposing to launch prosecution under Section 277 of the Income Tax Act, 1961, for assessment year 2020-21. Srinath Ramakkrushnan filed detailed replies on August 16, 2023, and September 27, 2023, denying the allegations, challenging the jurisdiction of the issuing authority. The matter is currently pending.

Further, we may be subject to legal action in relation to workplace incidents including by our employees or contract labours in relation to accidents at the workplace. For instance, following a non-fatal workplace accident involving a contract worker at the Wardha factory, in Maharashtra, we received and responded to a show cause notice for alleged violations of the Factories Act, 1948. Concurrently, the worker filed a claim under the Employees’ Compensation Act, 1923, prompting us to deposit a total compensation of ₹0.53 million. The matter is currently pending. Similarly, FIRs have been registered against certain of our Subsidiaries, in relation to fatal accidents involving contract labourers or workers which have occurred at the premises of our Subsidiaries. For further details, please refer to “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 562.

Additionally, certain claims have been filed against our Company and certain Subsidiaries, by Ayr Energy Inc., including counterclaims asserted in pending proceedings before the Texas Business Court and a complaint filed before the U.S. International Trade Commission (“US Trade Commission”) pursuant section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930. The US Trade Commission has not yet decided whether to institute an investigation in relation to such complaint, and any adverse judgements, orders or findings in these proceedings may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For further details, please refer to “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments – Litigation involving our Company - Litigation by our Company - Material civil proceedings” and “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments – Litigation involving our Subsidiaries - Litigation by our Subsidiaries - Material civil proceedings” on page 565 and 574.

Our Company has also received certain complaints post the date of the Pre-filed Draft Red Herring Prospectus and has responded to all these complaints. For further information, please refer to “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures – Disposal of investor grievances by our Company” on page 615.

A summary of the nature and number of outstanding material litigation involving our Company, our Directors, our Promoters and our Subsidiaries, our Key Managerial Personnel and our Senior Management as on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I is disclosed in accordance with the Materiality Policy adopted by our Board, as further detailed in “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 562, has been set out below:

33. We must obtain, renew or maintain various statutory and regulatory permits and approvals in the ordinary course of our business, and our failure to do so in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

We are required to obtain and maintain a number of statutory and regulatory permits, approvals, licences, registrations and permissions to operate our business. We must also renew and update them on a timely basis. Any failure to obtain, renew or maintain, or any suspension, limitation, withdrawal or revocation of, any required approvals, licenses, registrations or permits could impede our operations and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Regulatory authorities may also change the rules that govern our activities, which may cause us to incur higher costs, face penalties, or require us to modify our operations. While we have not, in the last three Fiscals, failed to obtain, renew or maintain a permit, approval, license, registration or permission material to our business operations, there can be no assurance that such incidents will not occur in the future, including as a result of any non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with the terms of such permits, approvals, licenses, registrations or permissions or with applicable law.

As on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, there are certain material approvals for which our Company and Material Subsidiaries have made an application to the appropriate authorities but not obtained the approvals or renewed approvals, as applicable, including applications filed for fire no objection certificate for our Company's manufacturing facility I - Bhilai (Unit 1), manufacturing facility II- Bhilai (Unit 2) and manufacturing facility V- Greater Noida, fire no objection certificate for Kryfs Power's Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kryfs Palghar factory, no objection certificate to operate the DG set for Kryfs Power's Kherdi factory unit 1, Kherdi factory unit 2 and Kherdi factory unit 3&4; and applications filed for a local business license (manufacturing) issued by Clark County, Nevada and Texas manufacturing permit issued by Texas Secretary of State, for Unimacts Global.

Additionally, certain approvals for electrical installations under the Electricity Act, 2003 issued for manufacturing facility I - Bhilai (Unit 1) and manufacturing facility I - Bhilai (Unit 2) situated in Chhattisgarh, and manufacturing facility V - Greater Noida situated in Uttar Pradesh, have been obtained by the respective property owners. However, copies of these approvals are presently not traceable. For details of applicable regulations relating to our business and operations, see "Key Regulations and Policies” on page 330. Further, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 580 for details of the material approvals applicable to our business and operations including for details of applications made for certain regulatory approvals that have not been received by us as on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I. We cannot assure you that the relevant regulatory or statutory authorities will not initiate actions against us for carrying out our operations without applying for and holding valid approvals. In the event that we are unable to obtain such approvals in a timely manner or at all, our business operations may be adversely affected.

34. *Our Promoters and certain members of our Promoter Group have pledged their Equity Shares and Preference Shares with a security trustee under our promoter borrowing arrangements. Any exercise by lenders of such pledges would dilute the shareholding of the Promoters which may adversely affect our business and the share price of the Equity Shares.

As on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, 28,461,344 Equity Shares of face value of ₹ 1 each (“Pledged Promoter Shares”) held by our Promoters, i.e., Amrit Pratik Acharya and Srinath Ramakrushnan, constituting 1.85% of our pre-Offer Equity Share capital on a fully diluted basis, and 73,742,459 Equity Shares of face value of ₹ 1 each (including Equity Shares arising out of CCPS) (“Other Pledged Shares”) held by certain members of the Promoter Group and Creovate Innovation Private Limited (“Creovate”), constituting 4.80% of our pre-Offer Equity Share capital on a fully diluted basis, are pledged and subject to non-disposal undertakings, in favour of Catalyst Trusteeship Limited (in its capacity as the “Debenture Trustee”) (Pledged Promoter Shares and Other Pledged Shares, collectively, the “Pledged Securities”) pursuant to the amended and restated unattested pledge agreement dated September 5, 2025 (the “Pledge Agreement”), modified and restated debenture trust deed dated September 5, 2025 (the “Trust Deed”) and the various amended and restated non-disposal undertakings each dated September 5, 2025 (“NDU Agreements”) (collectively, the “Credit Facility Documents”). The Promoters and Creovate are proposing to offer Equity Shares for sale in the Offer for Sale (“OFS Shares”). In terms of the Credit Facility Documents and a consent and no-objection letter dated March 27, 2026 (“Consent Letter”), the Debenture Trustee has agreed to release from pledge, 18,769,460 Equity Shares of face value of ₹ 1 each and 328,498,600 CCPS which were encumbered with the Debenture Trustee, to enable our Promoters to fulfil the requirements stipulated under Regulation 15 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations in relation to the ‘minimum promoters’ contribution’ (“MPC Pledged Shares”) with respect to the Offer. Out of these MPC Pledged Shares, pursuant to the Consent Letter, 18,769,460 Equity Shares of face value of ₹ 1 each and 258,839,940 CCPS held by our Promoter were released from pledge prior to the filing of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I and the balance 69,658,660 CCPS (amounting to 41,670,806 Equity Shares of face value of ₹ 1 each on a fully diluted basis), which were subject to a non-disposal undertaking, have been released from such encumbrance, prior to the date of the Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I. Further, the Debenture Trustee has agreed to release from pledge: (a) up to 28,461,344 Equity Shares pledged by the Promoters, which are proposed to be offered in the Offer for Sale (“Promoter Pledged OFS Shares”); and (b) Up to 22,974,820 Equity Shares (which shall include the Equity Shares arising out of the conversion of the CCPS) pledged by Creovate, which are proposed to be offered in the Offer for Sale (“Creovate Pledged OFS Shares”), five working days before the filing of the Red Herring Prospectus and has also agreed to release the remaining Pledged Securities, including any additional shares pledged by the Promoters in excess of the Pledged OFS Shares and MPC Pledged Shares, including any additional shares received or acquired by the Promoters on account of bonus issuances, subdivisions, conversion, secondary purchase, primary acquisitions etc., collectively (collectively, the “Remaining Pledged Shares”), in order for the relevant depository to mark a lock-in on the aforementioned Equity Shares, as stipulated under Regulation 16(b) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, five working days prior to filing of the Red Herring Prospectus. In terms of Regulation 17 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the remaining Other Pledged Shares (excluding the Pledged OFS Shares and remaining Promoter Pledged Shares) shall continue to be pledged.

Any default under the Credit Facility Documents will entitle Catalyst Trusteeship Limited to enforce the pledge over these Equity Shares, which could dilute the shareholding of our Promoters in our Company. As a result, we may not be able to conduct our business or implement strategies as planned, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

35. *The valuation reports obtained for acquisitions or divestments of business and undertakings and for mergers, amalgamations and revaluations of assets since inception are based on various assumptions and may not be indicative of the true value of the subject matter to which they relate.

We have relied on valuation reports for the acquisitions or divestments of businesses and undertakings, or for mergers, amalgamations and revaluations of assets since inception, including our acquisitions of KJV Alloy Conductors Private Limited, JZNEE Renewables Energy Technology Inc., Winsharp Electronics Private Limited, Unimacts Global LLC, Pinaka Aerospace Solutions Private Limited, Zet Town India Private Limited, Sharp Tanks and Structurals Private Limited, GLR Natural Resources Private Limited, VRR Investments Private Limited and Apple Engineers India Private Limited, Sapphire Clothing Company India Private Limited and Kryfs Power Components Limited. Such valuation reports are based on various assumptions and may not be indicative of the true value of the subject matter to which they relate. There can be no assurance that such valuation reports did not over-value or under-value any assets, businesses and undertakings we may have acquired, divested, merged, amalgamated or revaluated, which may have resulted in us overpaying for our investments or acquisitions or selling our interests in assets, business or undertakings for less than they were truly valued, each of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

36. *We work with materials and machinery at our manufacturing facilities that can be dangerous and cause harm to people or property.

Our operations are subject to operating risks associated with manufacturing, including risks related to materials and machinery that may cause harm to people or property, including machines used for cutting, welding, CNC, lamination, painting and sandblasting. If improperly managed, such machinery and processes can lead to accidents resulting in serious injuries or fatalities among employees or others, cause damage to our properties and those of others and disrupt our operations. All of our manufacturing facilities have been certified under ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and ISO 45001 for quality management systems, environmental management systems and occupational health and safety management systems, which provides a framework for organisations to reduce risks relating to health and safety. For further details, see “Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities” on page 316. Despite compliance with requisite safety requirements and standards, our operations are subject to hazards including explosions, fires, mechanical failures and other operational problems, inclement weather and natural disasters, discharges or releases of hazardous substances, chemical or gases, and other environmental risks. The occurrence of any of these hazards could result in a suspension of operations and the imposition of civil or criminal liabilities. For instance, approximately 10 fatal and non-fatal workplace incidents have occurred at facilities operated by our Subsidiary, Kryfs Power Components Limited, in connection with which certain criminal complaints and first information reports have been filed against Kryfs Power Components Limited. For further details of the outstanding criminal proceedings, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments – Litigation involving our Subsidiaries – Litigation against our Subsidiaries – Criminal litigation” on page 570.

At our manufacturing facilities, we recorded no fatality incidents in Fiscals 2026 and 2024 and one fatality incident in Fiscal 2025, and no injury incidents in Fiscals 2026 and 2025 and one injury incident in Fiscal 2024.

For details see – “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments - Litigation involving our Subsidiary - Litigation against our Subsidiaries” on page 570. From January 2021 to March 2026, we had a lost-time injury frequency rate of 0.0446 per million hours. While we did not have to shut down our manufacturing facilities as a result of these incidents, the loss or shutting down of our manufacturing facilities could disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and reputation. We may also face claims and litigation filed on behalf of persons alleging injury predominantly as a result of occupational exposure to hazards at our manufacturing facilities. If these claims and lawsuits, individually or in the aggregate, are resolved against us, our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

37. *We must comply with restrictive covenants under our financing agreements, non-compliance with which can lead to accelerated repayment and suspension of future drawdowns, adversely affecting our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

As of May 31, 2026, our total outstanding borrowings (including non-fund based facilities) on a consolidated basis is as follows:

Our financing agreements contain numerous financial and operational covenants that limit managerial discretion, including restrictions on:

- utilising the funds for the purposes for which the facilities have been availed;
- availing any loans from any bank/ financial institution;
- amending the constitutional documents of our Company in a manner which adversely affects the rights of our lenders;
- any changes in ownership, management or control of our Company/ Subsidiaries;
- any change in the shareholding pattern of our Company;
- any reduction in holding company's shareholding below majority;
- changes in the memorandum of association, articles of association or any other constitutional documents of our Company/ Subsidiaries; and

- giving intimation to the lenders about winding up, liquidation or dissolution of its affairs or take any steps for it voluntary winding up or liquidation or dissolution, or in the event of effectuating a scheme of merger, de-merger, amalgamation or reconstitution.

Certain existing agreements and future documents may require us to furnish security and meet financial ratios and tests. While we have received consents from our lenders concerning the Offer, some consents are conditional, depending on consents received from requisite majority of debenture holders, maintenance of adequate security cover, receipt of consents from all applicable lenders and absence of default. Failure to comply with these covenants could restrict or delay our actions or initiatives.

These restrictions may limit our business operations, hinder our ability to raise additional financing, impair our competitiveness and restrict our growth strategy, adversely affecting our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. While we have not violated any material restrictive covenants or defaulted on obligations (including events of default) in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such instances may not occur in the future.

38. *Improper storage, processing and handling of materials and products could damage our inventory, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows.

Our inventory comprises raw materials, components, stock-in-trade, and finished products. These items can be damaged if they are not stored, handled or processed properly. Any such issue can impair product quality and render inventory unusable.

While we have not experienced material incidents in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that incidents will not occur in the future or that they will not result in inventory losses. If damage or contamination is detected during quality checks, we may need to suspend manufacturing and reduce our capacity utilisation. As a result, we may incur rework and scrap costs. Deliveries could also be delayed, which could affect customer relationships and lead to penalties or order cancellations.

Improper storage can also increase damage due to adverse weather, poor environmental controls or extended storage periods. We may need to replace affected inventory and invest in additional maintenance or improvements to storage infrastructure. Insurance may not cover all losses or related costs. Any of these events could reduce margins and adversely affect our business, financial condition and cash flows.

39. *Unsatisfactory performance of, or defects in, our manufactured products or raw materials and semi-finished goods supplied through us could result in costs incurred to repair or replace such products or materials, harm to our reputation and a reduction in sales.

While we undertake quality checks, the products we manufacture, as well as the raw materials sourced and supplied through our Ecosystem Business, may still contain defects that are not detected until after they are shipped or inspected by our customers, which may lead to claims from our customers and could, in turn, lead to us incurring significant costs to repair or replace such products or materials. We are also exposed to product liability claims if our products or supplied materials cause property damage or personal injury due to malfunctions, defects, improper installation or other causes. Successful claims could result in significant monetary damages and payments. While we have not been subject to such claims in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that future claims will not occur, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

While we maintain product liability insurance, its coverage may be limited and may not fully address all claims or damages. See “—Our insurance coverage may not be adequate or we may incur uninsured losses or losses in excess of our insurance coverage which may impact on our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.” on page 47. We may not have sufficient resources to satisfy a judgment in the event of a successful claim against our Company. Real or perceived product defects can also damage our reputation, reduce customer confidence and lower sales and market share. Any inability to maintain consistent product quality and manufacturing standards could increase returns, replacements and related costs. Any of these events could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

40. *We may be unable to adequately protect our intellectual property and may be subject to risks of infringement claims. In addition, we may be subject to third party claims of intellectual property infringement, which could adversely affect our business, reputation, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

While we undertake to register our intellectual property, no assurance can be provided that our applications will be granted or that any registration will be sufficient to protect our rights. Our intellectual property may be challenged by third parties through revocation or invalidity actions, and we may face infringement claims from owners of similar trademarks. Furthermore, our registrations require renewal and proper use, and any failure to maintain them could result in a loss of rights.

We take steps to protect our confidential information through non-disclosure agreements, restricted system access, and internal policies. We also enter into confidentiality agreements with customers and suppliers. However, these measures may not be sufficient, as contractual arrangements can be breached without adequate remedies available to us. Information can be leaked inadvertently or wilfully, and we may not always detect or prevent unauthorised disclosure. The impact of any disclosure of our confidential technological information can be significant. Competitors could replicate our processes or technology and accordingly reduce our pricing power. Once know-how becomes public or is widely disseminated, it may be difficult, costly or impractical to obtain effective legal protection. Enforcing our rights can be uncertain, costly, and time-consuming, particularly in markets with limited legal protection. Adverse decisions by registries or courts could weaken our rights, requiring us to modify our offerings, rebrand, pay damages, or license rights on unfavourable terms. While we have not experienced leaks of any confidential technical information in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such incidents will not occur in the future. Any loss or misuse of confidential information could harm our competitive advantage and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and future prospects.

Additionally, we may be subject to third party claims of intellectual property infringement. Although we seek to comply with third-party intellectual property rights, we cannot be certain that our technologies do not infringe on existing rights. Defending against such claims can be costly and disruptive. An adverse outcome could require us to alter our technologies, obtain licenses on unfavourable terms, or cease using certain processes. We may be unable to develop non-infringing alternatives or secure licenses on commercially reasonable terms, or at all.

As of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, there are no pending intellectual property claims against us, and we have not been subject to any claims in relation to infringement of intellectual property rights or otherwise a party to any legal proceedings in relation to intellectual property rights in the last three Fiscals. However, we cannot assure you that claims will not arise in the future. If we are found to have infringed third-party rights, we could be required to pay substantial damages, face injunctions, or suffer other adverse consequences, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, reputation, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

41. We have certain contingent liabilities which have been disclosed in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, which may adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The following is a summary table of our contingent liabilities as per Ind AS 37 - Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets as of March 31, 2026. Notes:

- (1) Guarantees represent the bank and corporate guarantees given to joint ventures and associate.
- (2) Net Worth is the aggregate value of the paid-up share capital and all reserves created out of the profits, securities premium account and debit or credit balance of profit and loss account, after deducting the aggregate value of the accumulated losses, deferred expenditure and miscellaneous expenditure not written off, but does not include reserves created out of revaluation of assets, write back of depreciation and amalgamation in accordance with Regulation 2(1)(hh) of SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2018. We have calculated Net Worth as the aggregate of equity share capital, instrument entirely equity in nature, and other equity including share application money pending allotment less foreign currency translation reserve.

If a significant portion of these liabilities materialises, it could have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

42. We may be subject to unionisation, work stoppages or increased labour costs, which could adversely affect our business, cash flows and results of operations.

The success of our operations depends on the availability of labour and maintaining a good relationship with our workforce. The table below sets out the number of employees employed across our various offices and manufacturing facilities, and contract labourers for conducting various activities at our manufacturing facilities as of March 31, 2026:

| Particulars        | As of March 31, 2026 |
|--------------------|----------------------|
| Employees          | 3,554                |
| Contract labourers | 6,422                |

While our employees are not currently unionised and we have not experienced major work stoppages in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that we will not face unionisation efforts, labour disputes or industrial action in the future. Strikes, lock-outs and work-to-rule campaigns can disrupt production, delay deliveries and damage customer relationships. Prolonged disputes can also increase costs and reduce margins.

Wage inflation, changes in employment laws and increased social security or benefit obligations can raise labour costs. Collective bargaining or union recognition, if it occurs, could also further increase costs and restrict workforce flexibility. Further, we may need to invest more in training and retention to secure skilled labour, particularly as we expand or introduce new products. Shortages of qualified workers can lead to higher overtime, use of temporary staff and productivity losses.

We rely on contract labour for a range of activities at our manufacturing facilities. Heavy use of contract labour may expose us to additional risks. These include cost escalation from contractors, quality and safety issues, inconsistent staffing levels and potential liability for non-compliance by contractors with labour, social security and tax laws. Authorities could deem certain contractors to be our employees, which could result in back-pay, benefits claims, penalties or other liabilities. Any accidents or safety incidents involving contract labour can disrupt operations and give rise to claims and reputational harm.

We are also subject to a number of stringent labour laws that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. If labour laws become more stringent, it may become more difficult for us to maintain flexible human resource policies, discharge employees or downsize, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

43. Internal or external fraud or misconduct by our employees, contractors, representatives or counterparties that we deal with could adversely affect our reputation and our results of operations.

We may be exposed to fraud, misappropriation, unauthorised acts and other misconduct by employees, contractors or representatives. Such conduct may go undetected for periods of time and implementation of corrective action may therefore be delayed. Employees may also enter into transactions beyond their authority, which could expose our Company to additional financial and legal risks. These events can result in financial loss, regulatory sanctions, investigations and litigation, as well as damage our brand and reputation, and disrupt operations. While we have policies and procedures to monitor and detect such acts of fraud, misappropriation, unauthorised acts and other misconduct by employees, contractors or representatives, there can be no assurance that such policies and procedures will be successful in detecting or preventing such acts.

We employ third parties for certain functions such as labour on engineering, procurement and construction (“EPC”) sites. This increases exposure to risks of theft, embezzlement and other abuses outside our immediate control. We are also susceptible to fraud on the part of suppliers, which can result in poor quality of materials supplied to us. It is not always possible to deter or prevent fraud or misconduct. The precautions and systems we implement may not be effective in all cases, and human error or collusion can defeat controls.

While we have not experienced fraud, theft or employee negligence that adversely affected our business in the last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that similar incidents will not occur in the future. Any such event could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

44. The land and premises for our Registered and Corporate office and manufacturing facilities and warehouses are held by us on lease or leave and license or tenancy agreements or on subscription basis. Failure to renew or comply with lease and license arrangements could disrupt our business and adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Most of our operations are on premises that have been leased by us from third parties through lease or leave and license or tenancy arrangements. The terms of most of our lease agreements range from one year to 99 years with restricted rights to terminate in most leases and are subject to a lock-in period and renewal options available to us. As of March 31, 2026, we operate 26 own manufacturing facilities, in India, U.S.A., Spain and Germany, which are held on leasehold basis or freehold basis. We also operate offices for administrative and corporate functions, warehouses to assist us with the efficient distribution of our products, and guest houses for employee accommodation across various locations. For further details, see “Our Business — Properties” on page 326.

Upon expiration, we must renegotiate the terms of our property agreements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to renew these agreements on a timely basis, on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. Furthermore, our leases may be terminated for reasons beyond our control, such as a landlord’s breach. If we breach an agreement or have to relocate, we may face operational disruptions. While we have not faced such instances in the last three Fiscals, any termination of our lease agreements could materially and adversely affect our business prospects.

Some of our lease deeds may not be registered or adequately stamped. Unregistered or inadequately stamped documents may not be admissible as evidence in court, and we could be liable for penalties. While no legal proceedings or regulatory actions have been initiated or are expected against our Company in relation to these properties as of March 31, 2026, there is no assurance that these will not occur in the future. Further, there is no central title registry for land property in India and the documentation of land records in India has not been fully computerised. Property records in India are generally maintained at the state and district level and in local languages, and are updated manually through physical records, which may not be updated in a timely manner, may be illegible, untraceable, incomplete or inaccurate in certain respects. Title may also suffer from irregularities, such as non-execution or non-registration of conveyance deeds and inadequate stamping.

In the event that these existing leases are terminated or they are not renewed on commercially acceptable terms or at all, we may suffer a disruption in our operations. If alternative premises are not available at the same or similar costs, size or locations, our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations may be adversely affected.

45. If we are unable to establish and maintain an effective internal controls measures and compliance system, our business and reputation could be adversely affected.

We are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal controls that are commensurate with the size and complexity of our operations. Our internal audit function evaluates our systems on an ongoing basis to help ensure adherence to our policies, compliance requirements and internal guidelines.

The Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (“Guidance Note on IFC”) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (“ICAI”) contains certain requirements relating to internal financial controls over financial reporting. Our Statutory Auditor’s audit reports on our (i) audited consolidated financial statements for Fiscal 2024 contained a disclaimer of opinion relating to Section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, to indicate that our Company did not established and updated its internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements on criteria based on or considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountant of India (ICAI); and (ii) audited consolidated financial statements for Fiscal 2025 contained a qualification relating to Section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, to indicate that our Company's internal financial controls in respect of timely management review of revision of estimated cost, margin, project value and project milestone completion, billing of construction and project contracts were not operating effectively which could potentially result in material misstatement in revenue, receivables and unbilled revenue.

We cannot assure you that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Any inability on our part to adequately detect, rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls may adversely impact our ability to accurately report, or successfully manage, our financial risks, and to avoid fraud, each of which may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

46. Information relating to the installed capacity, available capacity, actual production and capacity utilisation of our manufacturing facilities are based on assumptions and estimates, and future production and capacity may differ.

The installed capacity, available capacity, actual production and capacity utilisation of our manufacturing facilities disclosed in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I are derived from internal assumptions and estimates, including industry-standard methodologies. These methodologies require us to make judgments regarding, among other things, operating days and shifts, expected line availability, throughput and yield rates, and the average efficiency profile of products manufactured during the relevant periods. Capacity utilisation has been calculated on the basis of actual production during the relevant period divided by the aggregate installed capacity of relevant manufacturing plant/line as of at the end of the relevant period. These rates are not indicative of future rates. Future capacity utilisation will depend on a number of factors, many of which are outside our control. These factors include demand conditions, product mix, materials and component availability, supply chain reliability, inventory management, equipment uptime and yield enhancement, and our ability to drive operational efficiencies. Prolonged or significant under-utilisation, whether short-term or sustained, could adversely affect our revenues, margins, cash flows, growth prospects and overall financial performance. See “—Any slowdown or interruption or under-utilisation of our manufacturing capacities may adversely affect our business, cash flows, future prospects and future financial performance.” and “Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities” on pages 43 and 316, respectively.

Moreover, our customers seek multiple product types and specifications and shifts in demand among product categories may require adjustments to production scheduling and process routing, which can impact throughput and utilisation. We may increase or decrease production for specific products based on expected orders; however, actual orders may differ materially from forecasts. Products with higher complexity or longer process times can reduce effective throughput in a fixed manufacturing set-up, while simpler products may require fewer steps. As a result, actual output and capacity utilisation may vary from our installed and effective installed capacity and may fluctuate from period to period. Accordingly, investors should not place undue reliance on our historical installed capacity, effective installed capacity or capacity utilisation data disclosed in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, as these metrics are based on assumptions and are subject to variability and change.

47. Our funding requirements and the proposed deployment of Net Proceeds have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution and if there are any delays or cost overruns, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue for the purposes described in “Objects of the Offer” on page 176. The Objects of the Offer and deployment of funds have not been appraised by any external agency or bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. While a monitoring agency will be appointed for monitoring utilisation of the Gross Proceeds in accordance with Regulation 41 of the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the monitoring agency will submit its report to us on a quarterly basis in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the proposed utilisation of Net Proceeds is based on management estimates, current state of our business and prevailing market conditions, which are subject to changes in external factors. We intend to utilise a portion of the proceeds towards firstly, repayment and/or pre-payment, in part or full, of all or certain outstanding borrowings of our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries, namely: (i) Sharp Tanks and Structurals Private Limited; (ii) Terra91 International Private Limited; (iii) Smile Electronics Limited; (iv) Kryfs Power Components Limited; (v) Kryfs Transformers Private Limited; (vi) Unimacts Global LLC; (vii) Zetwerk Manufacturing SG Pte. Ltd.; (viii) Zap91 Solar India Private Limited; and (ix) Zet Town India Private Limited (through investment in such Subsidiaries), and secondly, towards funding inorganic growth through unidentified inorganic acquisitions and other strategic acquisitions and for general corporate purposes. To the extent our Company deploys the Net Proceeds in our Subsidiaries, for the purpose of prepayment or repayment of all or a portion of the borrowings, it shall be in the form of debt or equity, including inter-corporate loans, non-convertible debentures or in any other manner as may be decided by our Board.

Our Company, in accordance with the applicable law and to attain the Objects set out above, will have the flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds in accordance with the policies established by the Board from time to time. Pending utilisation of the Net Proceeds for the purposes described above, our Company will have the flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds and to deposit the Net Proceeds temporarily in deposits with one or more scheduled commercial banks included in the Second Schedule of Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 as may be approved by our Board. Accordingly, prospective investors in the Offer will need to rely upon our management's judgment with respect to the use of Net Proceeds. If we are unable to deploy the Net Proceeds in a timely or an efficient manner, it may affect our business and results of operations.

48. *The corporate filings in relation to the allotment of Series D CCPS dated February 16, 2021 with the RoC had discrepancies and instances of non-conformance with the Companies Act, 2013 relating to share allotments. We cannot assure you that regulatory proceedings or actions will not be initiated against us in the future, and we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authority in this regard.

In relation to the corporate filings with the RoC in relation to the allotment of Series D Compulsorily Convertible Preference Shares made on February 16, 2021, our Company inadvertently utilized the investment amount of ₹1,737.83 million on February 10, 2021, prior to filing the return of allotment in Form PAS-3 on February 16, 2021. This resulted in a non-compliance with the provisions of Section 42(4) of the Companies Act, 2013, which restricts a company from utilizing monies raised through private placement unless allotment is made and the return of allotment is filed with the registrar of companies. Further, our Company has filed an adjudication application dated March 26, 2026 on March 28, 2026, before the RoC, for adjudication of penalties under Section 42(9) of the Companies Act, 2013 in relation to this non-compliance. For further details, see “Capital Structure – Notes to Capital Structure – Share capital history of our Company – Equity Share capital” on page 115. Under Section 42(9) of the Companies Act, if a company defaults in filing the return of allotment within the prescribed period, the company, its promoters and directors shall be liable to a penalty for each default of ₹1,000 for each day during which such default continues but not exceeding ₹2,500,000. Additionally, where no specific penalty or punishment is provided elsewhere in the Companies Act, the company and every officer of the company who is in default may be liable to a penalty of ₹10,000. Accordingly, our Company and our Promoters/ Directors may be subject to monetary penalties for the said non-compliance. There can be no assurance that we will receive a favourable order in the adjudication application and even after receiving a favourable order, we may be subject to penalties for the non-compliances.

There can be no assurance that further deficiencies in our filings will not arise in future, or that we will be able to implement, or continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any deficiencies in our corporate filings. Any inability on our part to adequately report, detect, rectify any deficiencies in our corporate filings may adversely impact on our compliance with the applicable rules and regulations. As we continue to grow, there can be no assurance that there will be no other instances of such inadvertent non-compliances with statutory requirements, which may subject us to regulatory action, including monetary penalties, which may adversely affect our business and reputation.

49. *Any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus – I shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company.

We propose to utilise the Net Proceeds towards repayment/prepayment, in part or full, of certain of or all of borrowings availed by our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries, namely: (i) Sharp Tanks and Structurals Private Limited; (ii) Terra91 International Private Limited; (iii) Smile Electronics Limited; (iv) Kryfs Power Components Limited; (v) Kryfs Transformers Private Limited; (vi) Unimacts Global LLC; (vii) Zetwerk Manufacturing SG Pte. Ltd.; (viii) Zap91 Solar India Private Limited; and (ix) Zet Town India Private Limited, through investments in such Subsidiaries; and funding inorganic growth through unidentified inorganic acquisitions and other strategic acquisitions and general corporate purposes. For further details of the proposed objects of the Offer, see “Objects of the Offer” on page 176.

In accordance with Sections 13(8) and 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds without obtaining shareholders' approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilisation of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the shareholders' approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such shareholders' approval may adversely affect our business or operations. In light of these factors, we may not be able to undertake variation of objects of the Offer to use any unutilised proceeds of the Offer, if any, or vary the terms of any contract referred to in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. This may restrict our Company's ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by re-deploying the unutilised portion of Net Proceeds, if any, or varying the terms of contract, which may adversely affect our business and results of operation.

Further, our Company may not apply the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue in ways that increase the value of your investment. Various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth in this “Risk Factors” section, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue in the manner indicated in “Objects of the Offer” on page 176.

50. *Proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion of the Offer will not be available to us. The Selling Shareholders in the Offer for Sale will receive the proceeds of the Offer.

The Offer includes an offer for sale of up to Equity Shares by the Selling Shareholders. The Offer for Sale as a percentage of the Offer is [●]% and amounts to ₹[●] million out of the total Offer of ₹[●] million. The Selling Shareholders are, therefore, interested in the Offer Proceeds to the extent of the Equity Shares offered by them in the Offer for Sale. The entire proceeds (net of applicable offer related expenses) from the Offer for Sale will be paid to the Selling Shareholders in proportion to their respective portions of the Offered Shares transferred pursuant to the Offer for Sale, and our Company will not receive any such proceeds. See “Objects of the Offer” on page 176.

51. *A portion of the Net Proceeds may be utilized for repayment or prepayment of specific loans incurred by our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries from entities which are affiliates of certain of our Book Running Lead Managers

We propose to, inter alia, repay or prepay borrowings availed by our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries from The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited (“HSBC Bank”) and Kotak Mahindra Bank Limited (“Kotak Bank”) from the Net Proceeds. HSBC Bank is an affiliate of HSBC Securities and Capital Markets (India) Private Limited, and Kotak Bank is an affiliate of Kotak Mahindra Capital Company Limited, respectively, which are two of the Book Running Lead Managers and they are not associates of our Company in terms of the SEBI Merchant Bankers Regulations. The loan facilities sanctioned to our Company and Subsidiaries, as applicable, by Kotak Bank and HSBC Bank were done as part of their commercial lending activities in the ordinary course of business and we do not believe that there is any conflict of interest under the SEBI Merchant Bankers Regulations, or any other applicable SEBI rules or regulations. The Board of Directors of our Company has determined the loans and facilities to be repaid/prepaid based on commercial considerations. For details see “Objects of the Offer” on page 176. HSBC Securities and Capital Markets (India) Private Limited and Kotak Mahindra Capital Company Limited, have independently performed due diligence to ensure that there is no conflict of interest and the proposed repayment/pre-payment of loans from their respective Affiliated Lenders has not had any bearing on the due diligence process undertaken by it in relation to the Offer. However, there can be no assurance that the repayment/prepayment of such loans from the Net Proceeds to affiliates of the Book Running Lead Managers will not be perceived as a current or potential conflict of interest.

52. *This Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I contains information from an industry report which has been prepared exclusively for the Offer and paid for and commissioned by us exclusively in connection with the Offer and any reliance on such information for making an investment decision in the Offer is subject to inherent risks.

This Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I includes industry-related information that is derived from the industry report titled “Overview of Durable Goods Procurement and Manufacturing Platform Market” dated August 3, 2026 (the “Redseer Report”), prepared by Redseer Strategy Consultants Private Limited (“Redseer”), pursuant to an engagement with the Company. The report is available on our website at ir.zetwerk.com. Redseer was appointed by our Company to an engagement letter dated November 13, 2025. We commissioned and paid for the Report to confirm our understanding of the manufacturing procurement industries solely for the purposes of the Offer. Our Company, our Promoters, our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, Senior Management and Book Running Lead Managers are not related to Redseer.

The Report contains industry and market data that are subject to assumptions that are subjective in nature. We cannot assure you that Redseer’s assumptions are correct or will not change and, accordingly, our position in the market may differ, favourably or unfavourably, from that presented in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I. Further, the commissioned report does not constitute a recommendation to invest in or disinvest from our Company. Prospective investors are advised not to place undue reliance on the commissioned report, or any extracts thereof included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I, when making investment decisions.

53. *We have issued Equity Shares during the last 12 months at a price that may be lower than the Offer Price.

We have issued Equity Shares during the last 12 months preceding the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I at a price that may be lower than the Offer Price. See “Capital Structure – Notes to the capital structure – 1. Share capital history of our Company – (a) Equity share capital” and “Capital Structure – Notes to the capital structure – 1. Share capital history of our Company – (b) Preference share capital” on pages 115 and 123. The price at which our Company has issued the Equity Shares in the past is not indicative of the price at which they will be issued or traded.

54. *If we are unable to raise additional capital, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

We will continue to incur expenditure in maintaining and growing our existing business. We cannot assure you that our cash on hand and cash flows from operations will be sufficient for our current operations or any future expansion plans that we may have. Further, our ability to incur further borrowings depends on the performance of our business.

Access to capital and its cost depend on many factors. These include general economic and capital market conditions, bank credit availability, investor confidence, our operating performance and credit ratings and the regulatory environment. See “—Our access to capital and the cost thereof is influenced by our credit ratings. Absence of ratings or unfavourable ratings may constrain financing options and adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations” on page 46. Event risks, including global pandemics, regional disruptions and natural disasters, can also affect funding markets. Unfavourable borrowing terms could impair our ability to import raw materials and could harm our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.

If our Company decides to raise debt to meet our capital requirements, we may be subject to restrictive covenants and may also need to grant security over our assets. Higher interest costs, refinancing risk and currency exposure could increase our financial risk. If we raise equity or equity-linked capital, existing shareholders may be diluted. Issuances could also pressure the market price of the Equity Shares.

There can be no assurance that we will raise adequate capital on acceptable terms, or at all, when required. Any inability to obtain timely funding could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

55. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Our Company has not declared dividends on the Equity Shares or Preference Shares since incorporation. While the declaration of dividends is at the discretion of our Board and subject to Shareholder approval as set out in the section “Dividend Policy” on page 399, the amount of future dividend payments by our Company, if any, will depend on a number of internal factors, including but not limited to the Company’s liquidity position including its present and expected obligations, profits of the Company, present and future capital expenditure plans of the Company including organic / inorganic growth opportunities, financial commitments with respect to the outstanding borrowings and interest thereon, financial requirement for business expansion and/or diversification, acquisition etc of new businesses, past dividend trend of the Company and the Industry, cost of borrowings, other corporate action options (for example, bonus issue, buy back of shares), and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board. In addition, the dividend, if any, will also depend on a number of external factors including but not limited to the state of economy and capital markets, applicable taxes including dividend distribution tax, regulatory changes (including introduction of new or changes in existing tax or regulatory requirements having significant impact on the Company’s operations or finances), and any other relevant or material factor as may be deemed fit by the Board. We may decide to retain all of our earnings to be deployed in line with the objects of the Company and based on factors like strategic and long term plans of the Company, future equity acquisitions, diversification opportunities or any other criteria that may be considered relevant by the Board. Therefore, we may not declare dividends on the Equity Shares in circumstances such as inadequate profits, if the Company undertakes or proposes to undertake a significant expansion project, acquisitions or joint ventures requiring significant allocation of capital, if the Company has significantly high working capital requirements adversely impacting free cash flows, or in the event there are prolonged strikes or lockouts, natural calamities, regulatory actions, major accidents, or other events significantly impacting production volumes. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends on the Equity Shares at any point in the future. Further, our Subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities, having no obligation to pay dividends and may be restricted from doing so by law or contract, including applicable laws, charter provisions and the terms of their financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that our Subsidiaries will generate sufficient profits and cash flows or otherwise be able to pay dividends to us in the future.

56. Changing regulations in India for technology driven companies, especially for foreign direct investment, could lead to new compliance requirements that are uncertain.

Our Company is a technology-led, asset-light manufacturing platform, where 100% foreign direct investment is permitted without prior regulatory approval. The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is continuously evolving and is subject to change. The Government of India may implement new laws or other regulations and policies that could affect similar technology enabled B2B companies which could lead to varying interpretations of the applicability of certain legal requirements or new compliance requirements.

Any new compliance requirements could substantially increase our costs or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, the manner in which new requirements will be enforced or interpreted can lead to uncertainty in our operations, require significant changes in technology solutions and could also adversely affect our operations. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including by reason of an absence or ambiguity, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent maybe time consuming, as well as, costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. Clarifications on ambiguous aspects may not be received in time which may affect the manner in which we conduct our business. Additionally, if we are affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of such laws and regulations or any related proceedings, or are required to bear any costs in order to comply with such provisions or to defend such proceedings, our business and financial performance and our results of operations may be adversely affected.

57. Certain of our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel (including our Promoters) have interests in our Company other than reimbursement of expenses incurred and normal remuneration or benefits.

All of our Directors may be deemed to be interested to the extent of fees payable to them for attending meetings of our Board or a Committee thereof as well as to the extent of other remuneration and reimbursement of expenses, if any, payable to them by our Company under our Articles of Association and to the extent of remuneration paid to them for services rendered as an officer or employee of our Company. They may also be deemed to be interested to the extent of Equity Shares, if any, (together with dividends and other distributions in respect of such Equity Shares), held by them their immediate relatives or held by the entities in which they are associated as partners, promoters, directors, proprietors, members or trustees, or that may be subscribed by or allotted to the companies, firms, ventures, trusts in which they are interested as promoters, directors, partners, proprietors, members or trustees, pursuant to the Offer and any dividend and other distributions payable in respect of such Equity Shares or promotion or formation of our Company, and the transactions mentioned in “Summary of Related Party Transactions” on page 89, directorship or shares held by them in our Subsidiaries, as well as to the extent of any dividends payable and other distributions on such Equity Shares held by them in our Company. For more information, please see “Our Management—Interest of Directors” on page 383. Additionally, we have, in the course of our business, entered into, and will continue to enter into, transactions with related parties. See “—We have in the past entered into a number of related party transactions and may continue to enter into related party transactions in the future, and there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favourable terms if such transactions had not been entered into with related parties.” on page 51.

While, in our view, all such transactions that we have entered into are legitimate business transactions conducted on an arm’s length basis, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such arrangements not been entered into with related parties or that we will be able to maintain existing terms, in cases where the terms are more favourable than if the transaction had been conducted on an arm’s length basis. There can be no assurance that such future transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows, including because of potential conflicts of interest or otherwise. For more information on our related party transactions, see “Summary of Related Party Transactions” on page 89.

These non-GAAP measures and statistical information may vary from any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry, and therefore may not be comparable with financial or statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by other companies.

This Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I includes certain non-GAAP financial measures and other industry measures such as Gross Profit, Total Cost of Goods Sold, Gross Margin, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA Margin, Manufacturing Business EBITDA, Manufacturing Business EBITDA Margin, Manufacturing Business ROCE, Adjusted Profit Before Tax, Net Worth, Return on Net Worth and Net Asset Value per Share relating to our operations and financial performance. Although such Non-GAAP Measures are not a measure of performance calculated in accordance with applicable accounting standards. We compute and disclose these measures because we believe they provide useful information about our business and financial performance and because such measures are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and others to evaluate the operational performance of companies in the Indian manufacturing procurement industry, many of which also disclose such measures. However, these supplemental financial and operational measures of our performance and liquidity that is not required by, or presented in accordance with, Ind AS, IFRS or US GAAP and have inherent limitations as analytical tools, and investors are cautioned not to consider them in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our audited financial statements prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards disclosed elsewhere in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I.

Further, these Non-GAAP Measures are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS, IFRS or US GAAP and should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit/ (loss) for the years or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS, IFRS or US GAAP.

These non-GAAP financial measures and other industry-related statistical information may not be calculated using any standardised methodology applicable across the Indian manufacturing procurement industries and, accordingly, may not be comparable to similarly titled measures computed and presented by other companies. In addition, these non GAAP measures are not standardised terms, hence a direct comparison of these Non-GAAP Measures between companies may not be possible. Other companies may calculate these Non-GAAP Measures differently from us, limiting its usefulness as a comparative measure. We cannot assure you that our methodologies are consistent with those used by others in our industry or that they will remain consistent over time. 59. *Information relating to our operational capacities and the historical capacity utilisation of our manufacturing facilities included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I is based on various assumptions and estimates and future production and capacity utilisation may vary.

Information relating to our operational capacities and the historical capacity utilisation of our manufacturing facilities included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I is based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, including past production mix, installed capacity information and standard capacity calculation practices, that have been taken into account by the chartered engineer in the calculation of our capacity. These details have been certificated by way of certificates from Suresh Associates, chartered engineer. Actual production levels and capacity utilisation rates may therefore vary significantly from the installed capacity of our manufacturing facilities. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our capacity information or historical capacity utilisation information for our existing facilities included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus - I. For further information regarding capacity of our manufacturing facilities, see “Our Business—Manufacturing—Our Facilities” on page 316.

60. *Majority of our Directors do not have prior experience of holding a directorship in a company listed on the Stock Exchanges.

Majority of our Directors do not have any prior experience of holding directorship in a company listed on the Stock Exchanges. Post listing of the Equity Shares, our Company will be subject to the applicable regulatory requirements, including the regulations prescribed under SEBI Listing Regulations and the Companies Act. We cannot assure you that we will be able to comply with the applicable regulatory requirements at all times. Any non-compliance with the regulatory framework, due to lack of experience or otherwise, may subject us to adverse regulatory actions, and have an impact on the listing price of our Equity Shares.

61. *If we are classified as a passive foreign investment company for U.S. federal income tax purposes, U.S. investors in Equity Shares may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences.

A non-U.S. corporation will be classified as a passive foreign investment company (a “PFIC”) for any taxable year if either: (a) at least 75% of its gross income for such year is “passive income” for purposes of the PFIC rules or (b) at least 50% of the value of its assets (determined on the basis of a quarterly average) during such year is attributable to assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. For this purpose, we will be treated as owning our proportionate share of the assets and earning our proportionate share of the income of any other corporation in which we own, directly or indirectly, 25% or more (by value) of the stock. Passive income generally includes dividends, interest, gains from certain commodities transactions, certain rents, royalties and the excess of gains over losses from the disposition of assets that produce passive income. In addition, cash and assets readily convertible into cash are generally categorised as passive assets. Based on the composition of our income, assets and operations and the value of our assets, we do not expect to be a PFIC for its current taxable year or in the foreseeable future. However, this is a factual determination that must be made annually after the close of each taxable year. This determination will depend on, among other things, the composition of our income and assets, as well as the value of our assets (which may fluctuate with our market capitalisation), from time to time. The U.S. Internal Revenue Service or a court may disagree with our determinations, including the manner in which we determine the value of our assets and the percentage of our assets that are passive for purposes of the PFIC rules. Therefore, there can be no assurance that we will not be classified as a PFIC for the current taxable year or in any subsequent taxable year. Certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences and additional reporting requirements could apply to a U.S. investor in Equity Shares if we were treated as a PFIC for any taxable year during which such U.S. investor holds Equity Shares. U.S. investors are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the application of the PFIC rules to us and the possible application of the PFIC rules to our Equity Shares under a U.S. investor’s particular circumstances.

EXTERNAL RISKS

Risks Related to India

62. *Any downgrading of India’s sovereign debt rating by rating agencies could have a negative impact on our business.

Any adverse revisions to India’s sovereign credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. India’s sovereign debt rating could be downgraded due to several factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India’s foreign exchange reserves, all which are outside the control of our Company. Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the credit ratings of India. India’s sovereign rating is Baa3 with a “stable” outlook (Moody’s), BBB- with a “stable” outlook (S&P) and BBB- with a “negative” outlook (Fitch).

63. *Regulatory, political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse effect on our business, cash flows and results of operations.

We are incorporated in India and derive most of our revenue from operations in India. The Indian economy and its securities markets are influenced by a number of general macroeconomic, regulatory, political and demographic factors and volatility in securities markets in India and other countries which are beyond our control. Investors’ reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located elsewhere, including India.

Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations and cash flows, may include:

- the macroeconomic climate, including any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;

- any exchange rate fluctuations, the imposition of currency controls and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets;
- any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse effect on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- prevailing income conditions among Indian users and Indian corporations;
- epidemic, pandemic or other public health crises in India or globally, including in India's neighbouring and key trading countries;
- volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India's principal stock exchanges;
- changes in India's tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies;
- political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India's various neighbouring countries;
- the occurrence of natural or man-made disasters;
- prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India's principal export markets;
- other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India or its consumption sector;
- international business practices that may conflict with applicable customs or legal requirements to which we are subject, including anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws;
- protectionist and other adverse public policies, including local content requirements, import/export tariffs, increased regulations or capital investment requirements;
- logistical and communications challenges;
- downgrading of India's sovereign debt rating by rating agencies;
- difficulty in developing any necessary partnerships with local businesses on commercially acceptable terms or on a timely basis; and
- being subject to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, including uncertainty of judicial processes and difficulty enforcing contractual agreements or judgments in foreign legal systems or incurring additional costs to do so.

In addition, the imposition, expansion or continuation of tariffs by the United States on imports from India or other jurisdictions from which we source inputs, as well as retaliatory tariffs by India or other countries on U.S. goods, could adversely affect our cost structure, pricing, and demand dynamics. U.S. tariffs may increase our input costs, disrupt supply chains, necessitate re-sourcing or redesign of products, and create delays and inefficiencies in logistics. To the extent we export directly or indirectly to the United States, higher landed costs and potential customer destocking or substitution could reduce our sales volumes and compress margins if we are unable to pass through cost increases. Tariff regimes are subject to frequent policy changes, exemptions and reviews, which heighten planning uncertainty and may require incremental working capital, inventory buffers or hedging, each of which could further pressure profitability. Further, tariff-related trade tensions can contribute to currency volatility and broader risk-off sentiment in global capital markets, which may adversely affect our access to financing and the market price of our Equity Shares.

We are also dependent on regional and global economic and market conditions outside India. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares are and will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economies in which we operate, and may be adversely affected by recessionary economic cycles, a protracted economic slowdown, a worsening economy, increased unemployment, increased energy prices, rising interest rates or other industry-wide cost pressures. A change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies in the areas in which we operate in general could also adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Any slowdown or perceived slowdown in the Indian or global economy, or in specific sectors of the Indian economy, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares. While we have not been materially affected by such a slowdown in Fiscals 2026, 2025 and 2024, any future downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India or elsewhere could have a material and adverse impact on our business, results of operation, cash flows and financial condition.

64. Our operations may be adversely affected by the effects of health pandemics, civil disturbances, war, social unrest, hostilities or acts of terrorism, natural disasters such as extreme weather events and other criminal activities.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including cyclones, storms, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis, tornadoes, fires, explosions, infectious disease outbreaks and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism, military actions, and wars such as the ongoing conflict between Ukraine and Russia, Israel and Hamas, the USA, Israel and Iran and elsewhere in the Middle East could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. An escalation in global conflicts may have a material adverse impact on our prospects due to the global nature of our business. Further, terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war in India or globally may adversely affect the Indian securities markets. In addition, any deterioration in international relations, especially between India and its neighbouring countries, may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares. In addition, India has witnessed local civil disturbances in recent years, in particular communal violence across ethnic or communal lines involving conflicts, riots and other forms of violence between communities of different religious faith or ethnic origins, and it is possible that future civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic or political events in India could have an adverse effect on our business. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the market price of the Equity Shares.

A future outbreak of COVID-19 virus, avian or swine influenza or a similar contagious disease, or geopolitical uncertainty due to the conflict between Ukraine and Russia, could adversely affect the Indian economy and economic activity in the region and in turn have a material adverse effect on our business and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

65. Inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and if significant, on our financial condition.

Inflation rates could be volatile, and we may face high inflation in the future as India had witnessed in the past. Increased inflation can contribute to an increase in interest rates and increased costs to our business, including increased costs of transportation, salaries, and other expenses relevant to our business. Further, high inflation leading to higher interest rates may also lead to a slowdown in the economy and adversely impact credit growth. Consequently, we may also be affected and fall short of business growth and profitability. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our operating expenses, which we may not be able to pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and the same may adversely affect our business and financial condition. In particular, we might not be able to reduce our costs or pass the increase in costs on to our customers in India or abroad. In such case, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

India has experienced high inflation relative to developed countries in the recent past. Increasing inflation in India could cause a rise in the costs of rent, wages, raw materials and other expenses. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. If we are unable to increase our revenues sufficiently to offset our increased costs due to inflation, it could have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Further, the Government of India has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

While the Government of India through the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect, and there can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not rise in the future.

66. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Currencies of a few Asian countries have in the past suffered depreciation against the U.S. Dollar owing to various factors. Financial turmoil in Asia, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. A loss of investor confidence in other emerging market economies or any worldwide financial instability may adversely affect the Indian economy, which could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations and the market price of the Equity Shares. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors’ reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Financial disruptions could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business, our future financial performance and the prices of the Equity Shares. Any economic downturn or other factors adversely affecting investments in this sector may result in a decrease in the demand for our services and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

These developments, or the perception that any of them could occur, have had and may continue to have an adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and may significantly reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets or restrict our access to capital. This could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows and reduce the price of our Equity Shares.

67. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, may adversely affect our business results of operations, cash flows and financial performance.

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by changes in law or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations in India applicable to us and our business. For instance, the Government of India has implemented two major reforms in Indian tax laws, namely the Goods and Services Tax (“GST”), and provisions relating to general anti-avoidance rules (“GAAR”). The indirect tax regime in India has undergone a complete overhaul. The indirect taxes on goods and services, such as central excise duty, service tax, central sales tax, state value added tax, surcharge and excise have been replaced by GST with effect from July 1, 2017. The GST regime continues to be subject to amendments and its interpretation by the relevant regulatory authorities is constantly evolving. GAAR became effective from April 1, 2017. The tax consequences of the GAAR provisions being applied to an arrangement may result in, among others, a denial of tax benefit to us and our business. In the absence of any substantial precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is subjective. If the GAAR provisions are made applicable to us, it may have an adverse tax impact on us. Further, if the tax costs associated with certain of our transactions are greater than anticipated because of a particular tax risk materialising on account of new tax regulations and policies, it could affect our profitability from such transactions.

The Government of India has enacted the Income-tax Act, 2025, which became effective on April 1, 2026 (the “Income-tax Act”), provides for the consolidation and amendment of the laws relating to the charge, collection, and recovery of income tax in India. The Income-tax Act imposes a tax on the total income of every person for the relevant tax year in accordance with its provisions. The determination of this total income and the corresponding tax liability is assessed for each tax year, being the twelve-month period of the financial year commencing on the April 1. Further, pursuant to the Finance Act, 2026, the Government of India has proposed changes to income tax slabs and applicable marginal tax rates. The Income-tax Act also prescribes penalties and prosecution mechanisms for offences such as failure to furnish returns, falsification of books of account and wilful attempts to evade tax. Unfavorable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. Failure to implement timely changes or accurately comply with could result in higher tax liabilities, cash flow timing impacts from withholding, interest and penalties, increased administrative costs, and disputes.

Additional rules, notifications, or technology requirements issued by the Central Board of Direct Taxes could be extensive or retrospective and may affect our Indian operations, subsidiaries, and cross-border arrangements. Any of the foregoing could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flow. There is uncertainty in regards to the impact of the Finance Act, 2025 and Income-tax Act, 2025, on tax laws or other regulations, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or on the industry in which we operate. The Government of India announced the union budget for Fiscal 2027, following which the Finance Bill, 2026 (“Finance Bill”) was introduced in the Lok Sabha on February 1, 2026. The Finance Bill will be enacted once it is passed by the Indian Parliament and receives the President’s assent. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning Equity Shares. We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our services will be enacted, what the nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations will be or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business.

In order to rationalise and reform labour laws in India, the Government of India has framed four labour codes, namely:

- (a) The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 notified by the Government of India on November 21, 2025, which regulates and amalgamates wage and bonus payments subsuming certain repealed legislations, including the Factories Act, 1948, the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, and the Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979. This code among other things, provides, standards for health, safety and working conditions for employees of establishments.
- (b) The Industrial Relations Code, 2020, notified by the Government of India on November 21, 2025, consolidates and amends the laws relating to trade unions, conditions of employment in industrial establishments and undertakings, and the investigation and settlement of industrial disputes, subsuming three repealed legislations, namely, the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, and the Trade Unions Act, 1926, which stand repealed with effect from November 21, 2025; and further amended vide Gazette Notification dated February 16, 2026 through the enactment of the Industrial Relations Code (Amendment) Act, 2026.

- (c) The Code on Wages, 2019 notified by the Government of India on November 21, 2025, which amends and consolidates laws relating to social security, subsuming four separate repealed legislations, namely, the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976.
- (d) The Code on Social Security, 2020 notified by the Government of India on November 21, 2025, which regulates the occupational safety and health and working conditions of the persons employed in an establishment subsuming several separate repealed legislations including the Employee's Compensation Act, 1923, the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Employment Exchanges (Compulsory Notification of Vacancies) Act, 1959, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961, and the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

The legislations repealed by the four labour codes above will continue to be in effect during the transition period.

Unfavourable changes in laws, rules, or regulations, including those governing foreign investment or their interpretation or implementation, could result in non-compliance, require additional approvals, or impose new compliance obligations on us. Such changes may increase our operational costs, require significant management attention, and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, and growth prospects. In addition, uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. In particular, the degree of uncertainty in tax laws and regulations, combined with significant penalties for default and a risk of aggressive action, including by retrospective legislation, by the governmental or tax authorities, may result in tax risks in the states in which we operate being significantly higher than expected. Clarifications on ambiguous aspects may not be received in time which may affect the manner in which we conduct our business. Additionally, if we are affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of such laws and regulations or any related proceedings, or are required to bear any costs in order to comply with such provisions or to defend such proceedings, our business and financial performance, our results of operations and cash flows may be adversely affected.

68. Our business and activities may be regulated by the Competition Act and proceedings may be enforced against us.

The Competition Act, 2002 (the “Competition Act”) seeks to prevent business practices that have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India. Under the Competition Act, any arrangement, understanding or action in concert between enterprises, whether formal or informal, which causes or is likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India is void and attracts substantial monetary penalties. Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment or provision of services, shares the market or source of production or provision of services in any manner by way of allocation of geographical area, type of goods or services or number of customers in the relevant market or in any other similar way or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition.

The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise. If it is proved that the contravention committed by a company took place with the consent or connivance or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of such company, that person shall be also guilty of the contravention and may be punished. On March 4, 2011, the Government of India notified and brought into force the combination regulation (merger control) provisions under the Competition Act with effect from June 1, 2011. These provisions require acquisitions of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations that cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds to be mandatorily notified to, and pre-approved by, the Competition Commission of India (“CCI”).

Additionally, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued the Competition Commission of India (Procedure in regard to the transaction of business relating to combinations) Regulations, 2011, as amended, which sets out the mechanism for implementation of the merger control regime in India. The Competition Act aims to, among other things, prohibit all agreements and transactions, including agreements between vertical trading partners i.e. entities at different stages or levels of the production chain in different markets, which may have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India. Subsequently, on April 11, 2023, the Competition (Amendment) Act, 2023, came into force, granting the CCI greater authority to prevent practices that harm competition and consumer interests, with the aim of facilitating the ease of doing business in India and promotes transparency. Among other changes, the amendment adjusts the criteria for determining an appreciable adverse effect on competition (“AAEC”), shortens the time frame for the CCI to review mergers, and allows the CCI to levy penalties based on the global turnover for anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominance.

Given that the Competition Act seeks to prevent any agreements or transactions that may negatively affect competition in India, all of our agreements could fall under its purview. Notably, the CCI has extra-territorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside of India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India. However, the effect of the provisions of the Competition Act on the agreements entered into by us cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. We may also be subject to queries from the CCI pursuant to complaints by customers or any third persons, which could be made without any or adequate basis given our market presence.

71. Pursuant to listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measure (ASM) and Graded Surveillance Measures (GSM) by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of investors.

SEBI and Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard interest of investors, have been introducing various enhanced pre-emptive surveillance measures. The main objective of these measures is to alert and advise investors to be extra cautious while dealing in these securities and advise market participants to carry out necessary due diligence while dealing in these securities. Accordingly, SEBI and Stock Exchanges have provided for (a) GSM on securities where such trading price of such securities does not commensurate with financial health and fundamentals such as earnings, book value, fixed assets, net-worth, price per equity multiple and market capitalisation; and (b) ASM on securities with surveillance concerns based on objective parameters such as price and volume variation and volatility. ASM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities with surveillance concerns based on certain objective parameters such as price-to-earnings ratio, percentage of delivery, consumer concentration, variation in volume of shares and volatility of shares, among other things. GSM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities where their price quoted on the Stock Exchanges is not commensurate with, among other things, the financial performance and financial condition measures such as earnings, book value, fixed assets, Net Worth, other measures such as price-to-earnings multiple and market capitalisation.

On listing, we may be subject to general market conditions which may include significant price and volume fluctuations. The price of our Equity Shares may also fluctuate after the Offer due to several factors such as volatility in the Indian and global securities market, our financial performance, performance of our competitors, changes in the estimates of our performance or any other political or economic factor. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors may trigger the parameters identified by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing securities under the GSM or ASM framework such as net worth and net fixed assets of securities, market based parameters such as high low variation in securities, client concentration, close to close price variation market capitalisation, average daily trading volume and its change, and average delivery percentage, among others.

In the event our Equity Shares are covered under such pre-emptive surveillance measures implemented by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in relation to trading of our Equity Shares such as higher margin requirements, requirement of settlement on a trade for trade basis without netting off, limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading, as well as mentioning of our Equity Shares on the surveillance dashboards of the Stock Exchanges. The imposition of these restrictions and curbs on trading may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active market for and trading of our Equity Shares.

72. The trading volume and market price of the Equity Shares may be volatile following the Offer.

The market price of the Equity Shares may fluctuate as a result of, among other things, the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts' recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and governmental regulations applicable to our industry;
- additions or departures of Key Managerial Personnel or Senior Management;
- changes in exchange rates; and
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume.

73. The Equity Shares have never been publicly traded, and, after the Offer, the Equity Shares may experience price and volume fluctuations, and an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop. Further, the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price, or at all.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book-building process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India, announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments, announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us, volatility in the securities markets in India and other jurisdictions, variations in the growth rate of financial indicators, variations in revenue or earnings estimates by research publications, and changes in economic, legal and other regulatory factors. Consequently, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price, or at all, and may as a result lose all or a part of your investment.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and our Equity Share price could fluctuate significantly because of market volatility. A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause investors to lose some or all of their investment.

74. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on the stock exchanges in a timely manner or at all.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of our Equity Shares will not be granted until after certain actions have been completed in relation to this Offer and until Allotment of Equity Shares pursuant to this Issue. In accordance with current regulations and circulars issued by SEBI, our Equity Shares are required to be listed on the BSE and NSE within such time as mandated under UPI Circulars, subject to any change in the prescribed timeline in this regard. However, we cannot assure you that the trading in our Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining final listing and trading approvals may restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

75. You will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares you purchase in the Offer.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Offer and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant could take approximately two Working Days from the Bid / Offer Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within three Working Days of the Bid / Offer Closing Date. There could also be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

76. Holders of Equity Shares in other jurisdictions may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India is required to offer holders of its equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the equity shares who have voted on such resolutions. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without us filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. We may elect not to file a registration statement in relation to pre-emptive rights otherwise available by Indian law to you. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares, you may suffer future dilution of your ownership position and your proportional interests in us would be reduced.

77. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

The Offer Price will be determined by us, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, through the Book Building Process, in accordance with applicable prevailing regulations. This price will be determined on the basis of applicable law and various other factors, as described in the section "Basis for the Offer Price" on page 227 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Offer. The market price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Offer and may decline below the Offer Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will be sustained after this Offer. The market price of our Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover our Equity Shares after this Offer, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- the activities of competitors and suppliers;
- future sales of our Equity Shares by us or our shareholders;

- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal, industrial or environmental regulations;
- the public's reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic conditions.

As a result of these factors, investors may not be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the initial public offering price. In addition, the stock market often experiences price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of a particular company. These broad market fluctuations and industry factors may materially reduce the market price of our Equity Shares, regardless of our performance. There can be no assurance that investors will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

78. The trading price of our Equity Shares may be subject to volatility and you may not be able to sell the Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price.

The trading price of our Equity Shares may fluctuate after the Offer due to a variety of factors, including our results of operations and the performance of our business, competitive conditions, general economic, political and social factors, the performance of the Indian and global economy and significant developments in India's fiscal regime, economic liberalisation, deregulation policies and procedures or programmes applicable to our business, adverse media reports on us, volatility in the Indian and global securities market, performance of our competitors, the manufacturing industry, changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts and announcements by us or others regarding new projects, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, or capital commitments. In addition, if the stock markets in general experience a loss of investor confidence, the trading price of our Equity Shares could decline for reasons unrelated to our business, financial condition or operating results. The trading price of our Equity Shares might also decline in reaction to events that affect other companies in our industry even if these events do not directly affect us. Each of these factors, among others, could adversely affect the price of our Equity Shares.

79. Any future issuance of Equity Shares, convertible securities or other equity linked instruments, by us, may dilute your shareholding or sales of our Equity Shares by any of our significant shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

Any future issuance of the Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to the Equity Shares by our Company, including issuance of Equity Shares to employees or former employees upon exercise of vested options held by them under the employee stock ownership plan schemes, may dilute your shareholding.

We may be required to finance our future growth and business requirements through additional securities offerings. Any future issuance of Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to Equity Shares, including through exercise of employee stock options, by us, could dilute your shareholding. Any such future issuance of our Equity Shares, including sales of our Equity Shares by any of our significant shareholders, may also adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares, and may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that the shareholders will not dispose of, pledge, or otherwise encumber their Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investor that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that our existing Shareholders will not dispose of further Equity Shares after the completion of the Offer (subject to compliance with the lock-in provisions under applicable law) or pledge or encumber their Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of shareholder's investment in the Equity Shares and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the Offer Price. We may also issue convertible debt securities to finance our future growth or fund our business activities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

80. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. The Income Tax Act levies taxes on such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹125,000 arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealised capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such equity shares subject to specific conditions.

A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied both at the time of transfer and acquisition of the equity shares (unless exempted under a prescribed notification) and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of equity shares held for more than 12 months is also subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Such long term capital gains exceeding ₹125,000 arising from the sale of listed equity shares on the stock exchange, on which STT has been paid, are subject to tax at the rate of 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). Unrealised capital gains earned on listed equity shares up to January 31, 2018 continue to be tax exempt in such cases. Further, STT will be levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange if the equity shares are sold on a stock exchange. With respect to capital gains arising in an off market sale, long term capital gains are subject to tax at the rate of 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) without the exemption of ₹ 125,000. Short-term capital gains, arising from the sale of such equity shares on a stock exchange would be subject to tax at the rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), while short term capital gains arising in an off-market sale would be subject to tax in accordance with the tax slab applicable to the relevant person or entity.

The Finance Act 2019 has also clarified that, in the absence of a specific provision under an agreement, the liability to pay stamp duty in case of sale of securities through stock exchanges will be on the buyer, while in other cases of transfer for consideration through a depository, the onus will be on the transferor. The stamp duty for transfer of securities other than debentures, on a delivery basis is specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount.

Our Company cannot predict whether any tax laws or other regulations impacting it will be enacted, or predict the nature and impact of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect on our Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. We cannot predict whether any amendments proposed to be made to the Finance Act, 2025 or the Income-tax Act, 1961 or the Income-tax Act, 2025, if any, would have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approval.

81. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of our Equity Shares between non- residents and residents and issuances of shares to non-residents by us are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions), subject to compliance with FEMA and FEMA Rules including pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If such issuances or transfers of shares are not in compliance with such requirements or fall under any of the specified exceptions, then prior approval of the RBI will be required.

Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries and/or departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. Furthermore, this is subject to the shares having been held on a repatriation basis and, either the security having been sold in compliance with the pricing guidelines or, the relevant regulatory approval having been obtained for the sale of shares and corresponding remittance of the sale proceeds. In addition, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, investments where the beneficial owner of the equity shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country which shares a land border with India, can only be made through the government approval route. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction and/or purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government of India. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Non-debt Instruments Rules, and further clarified by Press Note No. 2 (2026 Series), dated March 15, 2026. However, under Press Note No. 2 (2026 Series), investments with non-controlling beneficial ownership from land border-sharing countries of up to 10% are permitted under the automatic route, subject to applicable sectoral caps. Furthermore, an expedited 60-day approval process has been introduced for such investments in specific strategic manufacturing sectors. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or conditions or at all.

In addition, shareholders who seek to convert the Indian Rupee proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no-objection or tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. Additionally, the Government of India may impose foreign exchange restrictions in certain emergency situations, including situations where there are sudden fluctuations in interest rates or exchange rates, where the Government of India experiences extreme difficulty in stabilising the balance of payments, or where there are substantial disturbances in the financial and capital markets in India. These restrictions may require foreign investors to obtain the Government of India’s approval before acquiring Indian securities or repatriating the interest or dividends from those securities or the proceeds from the sale of those securities.

Additionally, even if an investment does not strictly trigger the prior government approval requirement (such as non-controlling investments up to 10%), mandatory reporting obligations under a standard operating procedure (SOP) laid down by the DPIIT apply for investments originating from entities with direct or indirect ownership by a citizen or entity of a land-border sharing country. These recent amendments will take legal effect from the date of the corresponding notification amending the FEMA Non-debt Instruments Rules.

There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms, or at all.

82. There may not be an active or liquid market for our Equity Shares, which may cause the price of the Equity Shares to fall and may limit your ability to sell the Equity Shares.

The price at which the Equity Shares will trade after this Offer will be determined by the marketplace and may be influenced by many factors, including, our financial results and the financial results of the companies in the businesses we operate in, the history of, and the prospects for, our business and the sectors in which we compete, the valuation of publicly traded companies that are engaged in business activities similar to us, and significant developments in India's economic liberalisation and deregulation policies.

The Indian securities markets are smaller and more volatile than securities markets in more developed economies. In addition, the Indian equity share markets have from time to time experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have affected the market prices for the securities of Indian companies. The Indian stock exchanges have from time to time-imposed restrictions on trading in certain securities, limitations on price movements and margin requirements. The trading price of our Equity Shares might also decline in reaction to events that affect other companies in our industry even if these events do not directly affect us. Each of these factors, among others, could adversely affect the price of our Equity Shares. As a result, investors in the Equity Shares may experience a decrease in the value of the Equity Shares regardless of our operating performance or prospects and may limit your ability to sell the Equity Shares.

83. There are restrictions on daily movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, the Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

The price of the Equity Shares will be subject to a daily circuit breaker imposed on listed companies by all stock exchanges in India, which does not allow transactions beyond a certain level of volatility in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by the SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on the Company's circuit breaker is set by the stock exchanges based, amongst others, on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The stock exchanges are not required to, and do not, inform us of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker from time to time, and may change it without the Company's knowledge. This circuit breaker effectively limits upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result, shareholders' ability to sell the Equity Shares, or the price at which they can sell the Equity Shares, may be adversely affected at a particular point in time.

84. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Bids during the Bid/ Offer Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/Offer Closing Date. While Non-Institutional Investors invest monies belonging to others on their behalf, Retail Individual Investors invest for themselves, usually in brokerage or retirement accounts. While we are required to complete Allotment pursuant to the Offer within two Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date, events affecting the Bidders' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

85. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of our Company because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/ shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted or consummated because of the SEBI Takeover Regulations.

Pursuant to the Book Building Process, the Offer Price shall be determined by our Company in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers after the Bid/Offer Closing Date in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. For details, see “Offer Procedure” on page 628.

All Bidders (other than Anchor Investors) shall participate in this Offer mandatorily through the ASBA process by providing the details of their respective ASBA accounts in which the corresponding Bid Amount will be blocked by the SCSBs and Sponsor Banks, as the case may be. In addition to this, the RIBs may participate through the ASBA process by either (a) providing the details of their respective ASBA Account in which the corresponding Bid Amount will be blocked by the SCSBs; or (b) through the UPI Mechanism. RIBs can revise their Bid(s) during the Bid/ Offer Period and withdraw their Bid(s) until Bid/ Offer Closing Date. Anchor Investors are not allowed to withdraw their Bids after the Anchor Investor Bidding Date. Except for Allocation to RIBs, NIBs and the Anchor Investors, allocation in the Offer will be on a proportionate basis. Further, allocation to Anchor Investors will be on a discretionary basis and allocation to the Non-Institutional Bidders will be in a manner as may be introduced under applicable laws.

Pursuant to a resolution dated August 3, 2026 passed by our Board, our Company has approved the utilisation of the Net Proceeds for the Objects, in accordance with the aforementioned schedule of implementation and deployment. The fund requirements, the deployment of funds and the intended use of the Net Proceeds as described herein are based on our current business plan, management estimates, prevailing market conditions and other commercial and technical factors. However, such fund requirements and deployment of funds have not been appraised by any bank, or financial institution or any other independent agency. We may have to revise our funding requirements and deployment on account of a variety of factors such as our financial and market condition, business and strategy, competition and other external factors such as changes in the business environment, terms and conditions of borrowings availed by our Company and Subsidiaries and interest or exchange rate fluctuations, which may not be within the control of our management. Depending upon such factors, we may have to reduce or extend the deployment period for the Objects, at the discretion of our management, and in accordance with applicable laws. This may entail rescheduling or revising the planned expenditure and funding requirements, including the expenditure for a particular purpose at the discretion of our management, subject to compliance with applicable laws. For details, see “Risk Factors – Our funding requirements and the proposed deployment of Net Proceeds have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution and if there are any delays or cost overruns, our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.” on page 60.

In case of a shortfall in the Net Proceeds towards meeting the Objects, we may explore a range of options including utilising our internal accruals and availing additional borrowings. In the event that the estimated utilization of the Net Proceeds in a scheduled Fiscal is not completely met, due to the reasons stated above, the same shall be utilised in the next Fiscal, as may be determined by our Company, in accordance with applicable laws. If the actual utilisation towards any of the Objects is lower than the proposed deployment such balance will be used towards general corporate purposes within the permissible limits in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Our Statutory Auditors have provided no assurance or services related to any prospective financial information.
